Shanghai—(U)—Three one pound shells crashed directly in front of the American consulate-general this afternoon, seriously injuring three Chinese civilians and one British Sikh policeman.

The "pom-pom" shells were fired from Chinese guns just north of the international settlement border, apparently at four low-flying Japanese bombers.

Just previously one hundred additional American marines had been landed from Admiral Harry Yarnall's yacht Isabel after a hurried trip from Tsingtao. They swelled the United States land forces to 1,300 marines.

The marines were moved into place immediately behind the fortifications living the northern border of the international settlement, where the American forces guard the most hazardous section of the boundary.

Cling to Positions
Chinese troops clung tenaciously to their main lines on all fronts in the face of incessant and sustained attacks from the combined Japanese army, airforce and navy.

Chinese struck a new blow at the Japanese navy today by blockading the upper reaches of the Yangtze river with a barrier just below Silver Island, some 30 miles east of Nanking.

The barricade of obsolete steamers and Chinese junks loaded with sand and concrete effectively blocked the Japanese fleet from spreading its activities far up river from Shanghai. It meant that any considerable advance of the Japanese would place their land forces beyond the protecting range of their warships' guns.

The barrier also bottled up the United States fleet of river gunboats on the Yangtze and made more difficult the evacuation of 1,200 war-battered refugees at Hankow, 550 miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai, as well as other American citizens in various parts of the valley.

Nearly 500 American officials and sailors are aboard the six gun boats, marooned up the river. They have food supplies for six months, however, and Admiral Yarnall felt no concern for their safety.

Attack on Kiangwan
The main Japanese attack was launched in force against Kiangwan, the strategic "back door" to Shanghai, six miles north of the city and midway to Woosung. A Japanese spokesman said that the Far Eastern race course, however, had not yet fallen in to their hands.

This would indicate that at mid-day the Japanese lines, driving inland from the Whangpoo river, were unchanged from noon yesterday when they were reported to have reached the race course.

American observers in the Woosung area, where the Japanese north-south and east-west battle lines join to form two sides of a triangle, confirmed reports that the Chinese forces were still holding their principal lines against repeated Japanese attacks.

At Lo-tien, on the western flank of the Japanese front, a fierce Chinese counter-offensive failed to dislodge the Japanese front, from their positions.

DETACHMENT WIPED OUT
Peiping—(U)—A detachment of 4,000 Japanese troops was reported today to have been wiped out by a deadly Chinese ambush in the rocky hills west of here. The Japanese line was said to have been thrust back five miles by the sudden Chinese onslaught.

Japanese commanders were obviously more and more worried over the fate of their operations in this area, where their advance has been held up a full month by dogged Chinese resistance and astute strategy.

Heavy reinforcements were flowing through Peiping to Lamghang, 20 miles to the south, and to the sorely menaced Jannan-wei right flank in the western hills around Mentoukou, 25 miles to the west.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS

Manufacturer to Take Charge of Registration

Hyde Park, N. Y.—(U)—President Roosevelt today asked John D. Biggers of Toledo, Ohio, to take charge of the unemployed registration authorized by congress. Biggers said he would give his answer in Washington next Wednesday.

At the same time it was understood that preliminary consideration was being given by the president to utilizing local election and postal machinery to make the count, which will be kept on a voluntary basis.

Under the tentative plan the president may stir interest before the registration by a public radio address, with the registration set for a single day—probably a Saturday some time after the fall elections.

Registrants would be assisted in filling out simplified questionnaires at regular polling places. To guard against misrepresentation they would be required to make answers under oath.

They would be given a card showing they had registered. If successful, the count may be repeated every six months.

Biggers is president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company. Except for five years in the motor industry he has devoted most of his life to glass manufacture.

He is 48 years old and for several months has been a member of the administration's business advisory board. He is a native of St. Louis.

Biggers is a Republican, but he said today he had never been active in politics.

If he takes the job he will cooperate with a federal committee composed of the secretaries of commerce and labor, the works progress administration, the chairman of the social security board, the director of the census, and the head of the central statistical board.

It is understood the questions to be asked will be so worded as to ascertain not only the unemployed, but those temporarily employed, those on work relief, and those employed but not under social security—the whole to give as complete a picture of the jobless and employment situations as possible.

Ft. Atkinson Utility
Rate Probe Is Ordered

Madison—(U)—The public service commission ordered an investigation today of rates charged by the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company for street lighting in Ft. Atkinson.

The commission will hold a hearing on complaint of the Ft. Atkinson city council that the rates are "exorbitant."

A municipal ownership proposal was rejected by Ft. Atkinson voters last spring by a majority of about four to one. The Wisconsin Gas and Electric company purchased the municipal plant in 1927.

The commission also ordered an investigation of commercial rates of the Wisconsin Power and Light company at Milton Junction. The commission said 29 business establishments there complained that rates are too high.

Infantile Paralysis
Cases Still Increase

Chicago—(U)—Leading physicians and pediatricians were summoned to the city hall today for a second conference on infantile paralysis as 11 new cases brought to 216 the total for the current outbreak. So far 17 persons have died.

Reports of four new cases in suburban Berwyn prompted Mayor Anton Janura to close schools there.

Milwaukee—(U)—Infantile paralysis cases in Milwaukee stood at 23 today, unchanged from Wednesday. Dr. F. V. Brumbaugh, deputy health commissioner, said a check of prisoners showed the general health situation among school children was "very good."

"Bring Jesus Christ back into the center of things, back the evangelistic program of the church to the limit and follow Jesus Christ to the ends of the earth," was the plea voiced by Dr. C. J. Carpenter, pastor of Morgan Park Methodist church in Chicago, in his discussion of the Million Unit fellowship movement, the missionary and evangelistic project of the Methodist Episcopal church, at this morning's session of the Wisconsin annual conference of the church which is being held this week at First Methodist church.

This morning's meeting which was a united session of both ministers and laymen stressed the Million Unit fellowship plan, and Dr. Carpenter's talk explained the method of procedure as well as the reason for such a movement. He voiced the opinion that the outstanding points about the program of Jesus are that salvation is a personal matter and it is God's will that every man be saved.

"The missionary program is the central work of the church," said Dr. Carpenter, "and it is the duty of every minister to support the program of the church."

He told of the experience of his own congregation in supporting the Million Unit plan and of its success in surpassing its quota in spite of a large debt on its own church. The Million Unit Fellowship plan which was adopted by the General Conference at its last session calls for the enrollment of individuals in a fellowship movement for the church's evangelistic and missionary work at one dollar per month for a period of six months.

Miss Mary Jones, missionary to Burma, which is the particular evangelistic field assigned to the Wisconsin and West Wisconsin conferences, spoke of the need for missionary endeavors, scoring those who hold that the churches ought to leave the people of foreign countries alone and allow them to live and worship in the way they have been doing for centuries as being particularly misled to them.

He pointed out the fact that the very people who hold these views are not willing to let the natives of foreign countries alone in other things, and he substantiated his statement by telling how, even in Burma which he described as about as far from this locality as it is possible to be, one can purchase American-made cars. Raps Conditions at Oshkosh CollegeKarnes Says They Were
'Intolerable' Under Brown's Presidency

Madison—(U)—Frank M. Karnes testified today in his suit for reinstatement of the Oshkosh Teachers' college faculty that "intolerable" conditions existed at the college during the administration of former President H. A. Brown.

Karnes, who also asks $12,000 back pay from the state board of normal school regents, charged football players were shown favoritism, academic rules violated and teachers allowed to absent themselves from classes during Brown's tenure from 1917 to 1931.

The testimony was given before Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann during examination by Karnes' attorney, J. K. Allen of Oshkosh.

"Methods of coercion were exercised on teachers to permit students to take special make-up examinations immediately after failure, contrary to college rules," Karnes said. "Another deplorable condition was the permitting of studies and faculty to be absent from classes for extra-curricular activities."

Perhaps what was even more reprehensible was the bringing of football players to play at the school," he added. "These men did not possess proper entrance requirements. They didn't make their grades and they didn't pay their bills. Even worse was the policy of giving the students paid jobs with money taken from the athletic funds."

The announcement, he said, that the Appleton Post-Crescent will sponsor a charm school Sept. 20, 21, 22 and 23 at Castle hall on the corner of E. Lawrence and S. Morrison streets is bound to stir some interest in every feminine heart in Appleton and the vicinity.

The school will be conducted by Janette Serree, whose approach to the subject is fresh and different.

Mike Serree contends that charm is common sense self-improvement, not something one must be born with in order to possess. Neither is mere youthfulness, she says. A woman of any age can develop it. Among its requisites she lists a good figure, taste in clothes, good posture, correct diction and familiarity with the social graces, all qualities which lend themselves to cultivation.

Coroner Refuses to Order Post-Mortem

La Crosse—(U)—Coroner McLeod Nelson today declined the recommendation of a physician that a post-mortem examination be conducted in the death of Clifford Davis, 46, who died Wednesday afternoon at home; before he was to be arraigned in court on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a minor girl.

Davis' death was officially described as having occurred under "peculiar" circumstances. Coroner Nelson attributed death to heart disease.

The man collapsed at his home and died enroute to the hospital in a police ambulance.

Chain Gang Felons
Facing Gunfire if They Try to Escape

Atlanta, Ga.—(U)—Convicts in Georgia's chain gangs turned out before dawn today with the knowledge that any attempt to escape would bring bullets whizzing about their heads.

Orders to shoot in case of breaks for freedom went to prison guards and wardens yesterday after a meeting of wardens with Governor E. D. Rivers. The governor had called the officials into the conference about the flood of escapes which he described as "scandalous." One hundred prisoners broke away in August.

There was a possibility the whip, abolished in 1923, might be revived. Wardens voted for it unanimously, but there was a question whether it could legally be restored.

Rivers said Attorney General M. J. Yeomans would decide whether whipping was permissible under the state constitution which prescribed that "the limits of the state nor whipping, as a punishment for crime, shall be allowed."

"If he (Yeomans) rules we can return to whipping," Rivers said. "I'll cooperate and put it on trial under certain restrictions."

Socialists Want Housing Bill at
Special SessionGovernor Expected to Set
Sept. 15 as Starting
Date for Extra Term

Milwaukee—(U)—The county central committee of the Socialist party of Milwaukee sent to Governor LaFollette today a demand for inclusion of a public low-cost housing bill in the call for a special session of the legislature.

The telegraphed demand read: "Milwaukee workers and others with small incomes finding it increasingly difficult to get housing in surroundings fit for human beings at rentals they can afford to pay. Increased disease, delinquency and dependency shown in growing slum areas. We urge you to include public low-cost housing and passage of Rubin bill in your call for special session. Large scale building would cut unemployment and relief burden, aid building trades, service transportation and other industries, cut down crime and dis-ease costs and bring happiness to thousands now doomed to darkness and despair."

The committee called a conference on public housing for Oct. 8. Trade unions, civic, youth, church, foreign language groups, neighborhood betterment leagues, and other organizations interested in provision of "better homes for lower income families" are to be invited.

Max Raskin said that while the Socialists would take the initiative in calling the conference, the organizations attending would adopt their own procedure in carrying on a campaign for legislation to enable Milwaukee to take advantage of the Wagner housing act.

Madison—(U)—The executive office said today Governor LaFollette's call for a special legislative session, to be issued tomorrow or Saturday, probably would set next Wednesday, Sept. 15, as the starting date.

The governor has indicated he would limit the call to relief. The executive office has a relief bill prepared and ready for submission. Tentative estimates setting the funds to be raised at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

If the relief bill is passed within a few days, Governor LaFollette has said he will amend his call to include other subjects. He has received numerous requests to include a housing bill which would enable the state to benefit from federal housing appropriations.

In any case, the governor has made known he wants the special session limited to three weeks.

FARMHAND KILLED
Kenosha—(U)—John Kane, 39-year-old farmhand, was killed instantly last night when struck by an automobile as he walked along Highway 41 near here.

Rhinelander, Wis.—(U)—Thought dead for 13 years, William Sense, 43, today was visiting relatives in Crandon, Wis., his former residence.

Sense, who said he had been living in Minnesota since he disappeared in 1924, gave no reason for his disappearance.

His father, August Sense, two years ago lost a lawsuit in Lincoln county circuit court to collect insurance on his son's life.

Planes and Guns Concentrated on Loyalists in Northwest Spain

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Border—(U)—Insurgent planes and guns pounded the remnants of government defenses in northwest Spain today after their troop advance on Gijon had been stalled and more than 1,000 of their men killed by a sudden counter-offensive.

Insurgent artillery bombarded the "Covadonga line," a network of fortifications hastily thrown up by the government's Asturian troops guarding a mountain crest near the coast.

Aerial attacks caused heavy damage in Gijon, last government-held stronghold on the Biscayan coast, about 30 miles from the vanguard of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's westward-driving coastal columns.

The situation within Gijon was described as "acute." Police fled into the mountains, leaving the city without protection from extremists and plunderers.

Dispatches from Madrid meanwhile related that the defenders of that long-besieged Spanish city had struck against the insurgent lines near Valdemorillo that strengthened their grasp on territory recovered in the recent Brunete campaign. The insurgents offered only slight opposition.

Local Housing
Groups Needed,
Officials SayPWA Says More Authorities

ONLY 50 CITIES ACT

30 States Have Laws Enabling Them to Share
In U. S. Plan

Washington—(U)—PWA officials said today more local housing authorities are needed if the government's $526,000,000 program for low-rent dwellings and slum-clearance is to be effective.

Although 30 states have laws enabling them to participate in government loans and grants, only 50 cities have created housing authorities to manage local developments, housing experts said.

The federal program is based on local initiative in the low-rent housing field and its effectiveness thus depends on the extent to which municipalities participate.

Housing experts said the experience of the PWA has shown that a project usually is not ready for occupancy until about two years after plans are first laid out. Finding a site, selecting the type of building best suited for local needs, and getting construction under way are time-consuming jobs, they explained.

Officials predicted the United States housing authority would be organized and an administrator appointed soon after Secretary Ickes and President Roosevelt return to Washington next week. Ickes has "general supervision" of the new agency.

Provision of Law
Under the Wagner housing law, any local authority may seek a loan from the United States housing authority to cover 90 per cent of the cost of a project. The other 10 per cent must be furnished by the city, either in money or land.

In addition, the local housing authority may obtain a yearly subsidy from the government to offset part of the operating cost.

The law limits total construction loans in any state to $50,000,000 and total yearly subsidies to $2,000,000. The rental subsidies for the whole nation may total $20,000,000 annually at the end of three years.

Some housing officials expressed the hope that eventually many local housing authorities may secure the money for their projects through private financing rather than from the government. In such cases, the locality still would be eligible for the federal rent subsidy.

Superior—(U)—Albert A. Herbst, of Park Falls, was fined $200 by Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone yesterday after he pleaded guilty to charges of embezzling postal funds totaling $22.69 and withholding C. O. D. tags worth $70.

Frank Busko, Rib Hill, was given an 18 months suspended sentence on charges of possessing an unregistered still on his farm, and was placed on probation for two years.

Judge Stone sentenced Mary Cecilia Jurplianis and Angelo S. LaBarbara, Milwaukee, and Charles Chances, Stevens Point, to six months each in the house of correction on charges of violating federal liquor laws. Herbert Leder, Milwaukee, received a suspended sentence and was placed on a year's probation on the charge.

HITS AT AMERICANS

'We'll Fight to Last Breath for New Europe,' He Says

Nurnberg—(U)—Nazi Germany's little propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, declared before national socialism's annual congress today that a new Europe is being formed "for which we will fight to the last breath" against communism. Dr. Goebbels brought all his powers of invective into play—some of them against Americans—and "deluded" democracies—a few hours after Germany had decided she could not sit at a Mediterranean conference table with other powers so long as soviet Russia, which has accused fascist Italy of sinking her ships, would be there.

He warned Europe and the democracies that "Spain is the world's crossroads" and added: "What happens today in Spain may repeat itself tomorrow in any country."

Then he screamed that the establishment of a "communist power" in western Europe "cannot be tolerated."

Assails Americans
"Some leading American democratic political personages," Goebbels shouted, "sympathize with the Spanish government."

"If it is not soundly and despicably," he cried, "to travel with this terrible world danger, then it is a case of crash stupidity to which one might apply the gospel prayer: 'God, forgive them, for they know not what they do.'"

The propaganda minister reached a crescendo of vituperation when he described bolshevism as a horrible cancer, "eating its way into the healthy flesh of nations."

"Our warmest sympathies are with General Franco," he said, but he added it was absurd for anyone to think Germany was trying to nazify Spain or seize Spanish territory through her support of the insurgent dictator there.

Tells Atrocity Story
Goebbels told a lurid story of murder, of rape, the despoiling of churches and the killing of hostages in Spain.

"In view of these facts," he said, "it is perfectly incomprehensible that some church authorities should take red Spain's side."

"All this might have happened with us except for Adolf Hitler. The churches ought to be everlastingly grateful to us. But, instead, they insist on trespassing on the domains of the state."

"The Spanish trouble," he said, "was planned by Moscow, fomented by Moscow and organized by Moscow. Today it is conducted by Moscow. Moscow would have succeeded in its foul design but for one man's heroic energy."

Goebbels then turned to the Jews saying bolshevism was merely a camouflage for "international Jewry."

Buenos Aires—(U)—Harold Dahl, 28-year-old Campaign, Ill., captive aviator who is under sentence of death, told the Associated Press today that insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco has promised his release.

The promise was made to Dahl's bride of less than a year, who is now living at Cannes, France, Dahl was informed.

The insurgent chieftain assured her that Dahl would be released as an exchanged prisoner, the young flier learned.

A personal letter from Mrs. Dahl direct to the generalissimo enclosing her picture, did what official negotiations were not able to accomplish.

Oxford Meeting Termed Milestone In Church History

Only United Church Can Meet World Needs, Dr.
Brummitt Says

Because it proposed a united church to meet the needs of a divided world, the Oxford conference held this summer in England was a milestone in the history of the church comparable to the Reformation, Dr. Dan B. Brummitt, Kansas City, editor of the North-western Christian Advocate, declared Wednesday night at a session of the Wisconsin Annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church being held here.

The Oxford conference was a sign, Dr. Brummitt said, that the influence started by the Reformation had changed their direction. The Reformation, he pointed out, had to be a centrifugal force that drew things apart from an old center, but it also scattered and separated them, producing a thousand sects.

Today the church is coming to realize that all the advantages of division have been gained and that its disadvantages have become evident. With the world declaring, "You have no right to exist," the church is facing an opposition it has not faced since the days of Roman persecution, Dr. Brummitt warned.

Helpless If Divided
"A divided church is helpless in the presence of a divided world," he said. "Only a united church can meet the needs of a divided world. A proposal for a world council of churches is coming to the churches of the world from the Oxford and Edinburgh conferences, and that makes me believe that these conferences are a milestone in the history of the church."

An official delegate to the Oxford conference, Dr. Brummitt described the subjects discussed there and the proposals made. Delegates to the conference, who came from all the continents and represented all communions except the Roman Catholic, were divided into five discussion groups—the church and the community; the church and the state; the church and the economic order; the church and education; and the church and a world family of nations.

Tracing the history of the united church, Dr. Brummitt said that it was about 100 years ago that it began to dawn upon some church leaders that the centrifugal process had done all the good it could do. The Evangelical alliance was formed 90 years ago and initiated the week of prayer, observed interdenominationally. Finally the Federal Council of Churches was formed. In recent years there have been a number of interdenominational conferences, culminating this year with the important Oxford and Edinburgh conference with their proposals for a world council of churches.

Auxiliary Unit Hears Report on Fair Exhibit

Seymour—The American Legion auxiliary held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening at the club rooms. A report on the stand at the fair showed a good profit. It was decided to sponsor a baby and school children health clinic in the near future. The date will be announced in two weeks. Reports on the state convention held in Milwaukee during August were given by the delegates, Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mrs. Ernest Beyer. At the next meeting of the auxiliary to be held on Monday evening, Sept. 20, election of officers will take place.

A son was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eick. The Rev. Lorenz Knutzen, pastor of the Seymour Methodist church, is at Appleton this week attending the annual state conference. There will be no services in the church here next Sunday.

State Can't Get Out of Helping in Relief Work

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—State appropriations for local relief are here to stay. That's the opinion of the state public welfare department and the official attitude of the Wisconsin County Board's association.

Despite the fact that the southern, eastern and central parts of the state have returned to a level of industrial production, employment and payrolls which is almost equal and in many instances higher than the pre-depression years, direct relief expenditures are now running from $200,000 to $300,000 a month, spent to aid about 22,000 families representing about 107,000 persons.

That burden, or a very large share of it, the state will be asked to bear when the members of the state legislature come back to Madison this month to act upon the relief bill, something which they neglected to do during the regular session of the legislature.

500,000 Millions Spent
Despite the fact that more than $500,000,000 has been expended for public assistance in the state in the last six years, more millions will be poured out by the taxpayer this year, next year, and probably for many years to come. Officers of the state relief office frankly state it is their belief that relief aid must become a regular burden of the state government.

According to Thomas N. Duncan, the governor's fiscal advisor, who is drafting the relief bill which legislators will be asked to pass, the bill will be a "fine department" measure, designed to eliminate distress wherever it is in evidence.

Martin Points to Dangers in Court Packing Proposal

Courts Represent the 'Cold
Letter of the Law',
Justice Says

"The United States supreme court does not represent men or groups but represents only the cold letter of the law. When the judiciary of this country is deprived of its powers to interpret the law and becomes subservient to any other branch, constitutional government will begin to deteriorate."

This statement was made by Justice Joseph Martin, a judge of the Wisconsin supreme court, in an address on the constitution of the United States before members of the Appleton Kiwanis club Wednesday noon at the Conway hotel.

Interpreting the constitution on the supreme court issue, Justice Martin explained, "Ours is a limited democracy and congress has only power given it by the constitution. The supreme document of the land provides for a supreme court and such other inferior courts as are necessary in the opinion of congress. If the people want it changed, it can be changed, but only by the people."

Although there have been over 3,000 proposals to amend the constitution, Justice Martin said, there have been only 21 amendments adopted. Ten of the total were adopted during the first session of congress and only 11 were adopted during the intervening 150 years.

Fireman Organizes Bucket Brigade to Fight Cottage Fire

Credit for extinguishing a fire that threatened the Larzelere resort at Pickering lake Sunday is given to Paul Newman, member of the Appleton fire department, by Irma Larzelere, proprietor, in a letter received by Fire Chief George P. McGilligan today.

In the letter the resort proprietor praised the training of the local firemen. She said a guest at one of the cottages accidentally set fire to it and Newman, who was near, answered the frantic calls for help.

Without the customary equipment for battling fires, Newman quickly formed a bucket brigade with guests from the other cottages at the resort. He headed the line and within a short time put out the blaze.

More Millions Needed

The size of the appropriation to be requested in the bill cannot be learned, however, and it will depend on the decision of the legislature as to the extent of aid to be granted to counties and local communities. If the state decides to assume the whole burden of relief, at least $100,000,000 will be required.

If state aid is granted on the same basis of last year, and runs through July 1, the bill will run to about $200,000,000, with southern and eastern counties receiving nothing, and the northern counties getting from 75 to 100 per cent of their total cost.

The problem with which the legislature back to the state is the legislature is not a simple one. It is one that has plagued their predecessors for six years now, and which has resulted in the expenditure of more than half a billion dollars since the depression began, twice the total amount collected in state income taxes in a quarter of a century, an expenditure which in the last two years has exceeded the total general revenue taxes collected in Wisconsin by all governments combined.

Clintonville Council Acts To Develop Airport on Site Purchased in '34 by City

Clintonville—The question of developing the airport site purchased by the city in 1934 was discussed at the September meeting of the council Tuesday evening. Walter A. Olen, president and general manager of the Four Wheel Drive Auto company, explained that an airport would be a great service to the local truck firm, which is Clintonville's major industry, having about 880 on its pay roll at present. Mr. Olen stated that the company is considering the purchase of an airplane for its own use and that each year many visitors from distant points would come to the local plant if there were a suitable landing field for their planes.

After purchasing the Zick brothers farm for a municipal airport in 1934, a PWA project for it was approved, but due to the added expense to the city, the matter was dropped for a time. Now the city officials also feel that an airport would be a valuable asset to Clintonville. Mayor A. A. Washburn instructed the public property committee, Fred Tanner, Albert Winter and Fred Gansen, to proceed with preliminary steps toward the development of the airport and report at the next meeting. The committee will consult PWA officials at Stevens Point in regard to securing federal aid on the project. Mr. Olen said that his company would furnish trucks, drivers and graders to assist in the work on the runways if the project is undertaken. For the last several months the airport site has been advertised for sale by the city, but the offer now has been withdrawn.

Plant Near Completion

A. L. Phair, resident engineer of the sewage disposal plant, a WPA project, reported that the plant is now 51 per cent complete. It is expected that the $200,000 project will be finished about Oct. 6. The aldermen voted to sponsor a suitable dedication program at the time of its completion and acceptance by the city.

Ordinance No. 82 regarding transient peddlers and hawkers was adopted making it unlawful for out of town solicitors to call at homes in this city unless they are invited to do so. The ordinance does not apply to local sales persons or to farmers desiring to sell their produce in the city.

Misses Tena and Catherine Cance have returned from a week's outing at Pine Lake near Hiles. They accompanied their brother, Gordon Cance, Milwaukee, and Mr. C. M. Kenzie, daughter Jean, and Miss Dorothy Lowrie, also of that city, on the trip. Substituting for Miss Catherine Cance, who is assistant at the local post office, was Miss Ella Santkivi.

A large crowd attended the free movie presented in the village Tuesday evening. This is the last of a series which were sponsored by Shiocton business men.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moehring Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Gus Scheibe, John Moehring and Miss Emily Linster, Evanston, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moehring and daughter, Alice, Seymour. The Evanston group also is visiting other relatives in this vicinity. Mrs. Scheibe is a sister and John and Richard are brothers of Mr. Moehring.

Miss Isabel Miller left Monday for Oshkosh where she entered a business college Tuesday morning. She is a graduate of the Shiocton High school class of 1937.

Expect Answer Soon in Application for Bridge

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A report from the United States war department on the proposed Shiocton bridge may be expected within a week, according to the bridge department of the state highway commission.

War department officials held a hearing at Shiocton last week to determine the necessity for the proposed new structure over the Wolf river. Hearing was required because the Wolf is held to be a navigable stream.

Attorney A. D. Zwickey appeared before the council on behalf of the heirs of Mrs. Ottilla Johnson, aged 84, resident who died as a result of injuries suffered when she was kicked by a horse at Central park during the Fourth of July celebration. The family desires a settlement with the city for the expenses incurred through her death. City Attorney C. C. Mullerky said that in his opinion the city was in no way responsible for the accident, and therefore not liable for the expenses. Mayor Washburn with the city and finance committee will make a study of the case and give a report at the next meeting.

A recommendation was accepted from the poor committee whereby the salary of the case worker, Mrs. A. J. Roberts, will be reduced from $40 to $30 per month. With very few relief cases in the city it will be necessary for Mrs. Roberts to spend only one afternoon each week on relief work. If more cases develop.

Seven Counties in Valley Organized To Educate Voters

Seek to Build Sentiment
For Reorganization of Social Welfare

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A barrage of publicity to acquaint every voter in the Fox river valley counties with the findings of the governor's citizens committee on public welfare and to create a public opinion favorable to the recommendations of that committee, namely, a complete reorganization and modernization of state, county and local public welfare administration, will shortly begin, according to the headquarters office of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work.

County committees are being organized throughout the state, which will in turn choose subcommittees for an intensive campaign of public education, using the exhaustive citizens' committee report as a text-book.

County committees have already been formed in Manitowish, Brown, Shawano, Marinette, Calumet, Oconto and Door counties, and will shortly be organized in others, including Outagamie, Waupaca, and Winnebago.

Names of committee members in counties already organized in the Appleton area, as announced by Judge Ward Winton, Madison, head of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, are:

Calumet: J. C. Hallett, Sherwood, temporary chairman, James Clow, Chilton, F. J. Flanagan, county superintendent of schools, Chilton and O. H. Levereng, New Holstein. Shawano: Reverend William P. Power, Birmahwood, temporary chairman, Leo Stepaniak, Shawano, and Leo Jelinski, Shawano.

Acceptances have also been received for committees in Outagamie, Winnebago and Waupaca counties, but the chairmen in those counties have not yet been nominated, according to Winton's office. As soon as they are organized, they will choose their subcommittees, and begin their campaign, probably with a view to securing favorable legislative action on the public welfare reorganization bill which has been drafted as a result of the citizens' committee investigation.

Shiocton Veteran Attends National Meet at Madison

Shiocton—John Ham, only surviving Civil war veteran in this community, left Wednesday morning for Madison to attend the seventy-first national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Ham was accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ham. Before returning home they expect to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Strong, Milwaukee. The latter is a daughter of John Ham and a sister of Earl Ham.

Mr. Ham, who will celebrate his ninety-sixth birthday anniversary next Sunday, was born in Saratoga county, New York, in 1841. At the age of nine he came to Wisconsin with his parents who settled near Oshkosh. When the Civil war broke out he endeavored to enlist but was at first rejected due to an injury he had received while riding a horse. Later he was accepted, while the war was still in its early stages, and served under General Sherman.

In 1889 Mr. Ham with his family came to the farm just south of the village, where he is spending his declining years. The farm is now operated by his son, Earl.

Mr. Ham gets about the farm and spends most of his time outdoors to which he attributes his long life and good health. He still enjoys reading and visiting with his friends and neighbors.

At the time Mr. Ham settled in Japanese Investments In China Have Much to Do With Jap Invasion

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY
Washington—In trying to understand what's happening in the Far East today, keep this fact in mind: Japan in five years probably has become the biggest single investor in China, including Manchuria.

By "investor" I mean the citizens of Japan, and by "investments" the capital they now have in Chinese commerce, trade and industry. Foreign investments in China at present stand about like this:

Japan	$1,500,000,000
Great Britain	1,250,000,000
United States	250,000,000
France	200,000,000
Germany, Russia, Belgium and the Scandinavian countries	hold most of the rest of a total close to $3,500,000,000.

These approximate figures represent a consensus of totals struck by various "experts."

Peculiar Business
Now, investments often have a good deal to do with fights between nations. They have a particular bearing on the Sino-Japanese "war," because the investment of money in China is nothing if not peculiar.

Peculiarly No. 1 is the way China was opened to foreign investors. China was minding her own business, such as it was, when gunboats "convinced" her she wanted to play ball with the rest of the world.

Having forced China into the international ball game, the Japanese and the western nations found the China of a hundred years ago was not an ideal place for investors.

Ground Rules
The Chinese have their own rules of business conduct, for one thing. Business is a personal thing to a Chinese, and he clothes it with social ambiguities. Business is entirely above the compulsion of law, he believes, and it is rather low and stupid to keep accurate accounts. Thus to the Chinese, corporate finance and his laws are a form of odious business practice.

That's why, even today, the necessary capital to develop China on a par with western nations is lacking. That's why ancient China is still a nation rich in undeveloped natural resources.

China, besides, has had so much internal strife that, in the past, an investment one day might be an ex-investment tomorrow. When the Boxer rebellion brought that problem to a head, the foreigners tried to achieve a smooth mixture of Chinese and foreign investments by pouring in the ingredient known as extraterritoriality.

That means a foreigner may enjoy protection of the laws of his homeland in another country.

Adds Up to Trouble
Extraterritoriality couldn't happen in the United States, but if it could, it would work like this: New York City's financial district would be figuratively roped off, and labelled "international settlement." The rest of the nations of the world would take charge of the area, operate it under their own laws and maintain their own courts.

Extraterritoriality — and certain treaties by which China accepts responsibility for protecting for-

State Physician Describes Fight Against Syphilis

Says Biggest Job Is Finding Cases and Bringing Them to Treatment

Neenah—Although only 1 out of every 30 persons in Wisconsin has syphilis as against a national average of 1 out of every 10, the vital part in eradication of the disease which is the greatest menace to humanity is finding contact cases and bringing them to treatment. Dr. Milton Trautman, state board of health, told members of the Twin City Business and Professional Women's club and their guests Wednesday night in the Valley Inn.

Dr. William Lorenz, Madison, has estimated that the number of persons admitted to insane hospitals in the state with syphilis as the cause for insanity has decreased from 12 percent to approximately 5 percent since 1918. Dr. Trautman declared. He said factors responsible for the decrease and low average were the small colored population in this state, the stable and well-educated population, and the activity of the medical profession and the boards of health, both state and local.

When congress appropriated funds for certain boards of health for the control of syphilis, Wisconsin used the money for establishing free laboratories," Dr. Trautman said.

Make 80,000 Tests
"The first year of the laboratory work, only 2,000 tests were made, last year 80,000 were made. Wisconsin physicians are reporting more cases and the state has contributed free drugs for treatment of the disease. Wisconsin is now adding social hygiene lectures in high schools to its program of education and eradication of syphilis and excellent results have been obtained," so excellent, the speaker pointed out, that last year the legislature appropriated money for two more lecturers for the board of health.

"At no time previous to recent years has the control of syphilis been so widely discussed and at no time in the history of the nation has the public been so interested in knowing what the disease is and how it can be controlled," declared Dr. Trautman.

"Syphilis is not a disease contracted immorally, only 25 percent of the cases known have been contracted that way, but it can strike at the innocent and can be contracted innocently. We know that no child need be born syphilitic if every mother is given proper treatment for the disease during the early months of pregnancy. From the point of view of the health officer, syphilis is a disease and when approached from that point of view, it can be greatly reduced, if not eradicated. The taboos on the disease have been obstacles in the control but when we are faced with survey figures which show that there are 500,000 new cases each year with an estimated 500,000 of unreported cases, it is time we faced the situation openly and with determination to control and eradicate it."

Describes Treatment
Dr. Trautman discussed the manifestations of the disease and the treatment of it stating that one obstacle in control is the difficulty of getting people to take the treatment. He said that many persons, after one or two treatments, began to feel so very much better that they cannot see the need for the other 17 or 18 months treatment, week after week. They fail to realize that they are still contagious, dangerous to others and dangerous to themselves. They do not know that although the body may build up a temporary resistance to the bacteria and destroy most of the organisms, other bacteria may lodge in the blood stream or tissues, there to lie dormant until the disease manifests itself in the liver, the spinal cord or brain.

"The vital part of our program of control," concluded Dr. Trautman, "is to get people to seek the services of their doctors or the free venereal disease clinics in the state, of which there are 15 headed by physicians who have specialized in venereal diseases and manned by a social service worker who is also a nurse."

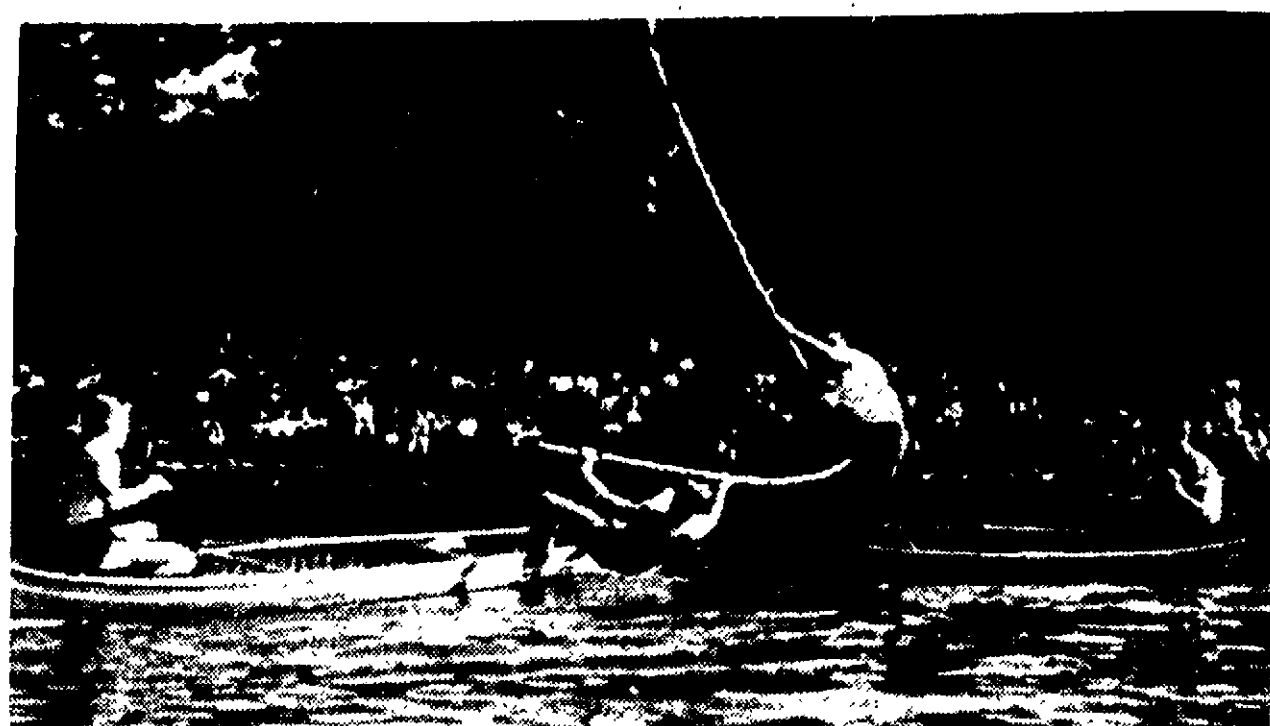

Miss Standing Talks
Miss Ellen F. Standing, Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association social service worker, was also a guest speaker on the program, giving an illustrated talk on the work which the association and the medical profession is doing to eradicate tuberculosis.

The club program last evening was in charge of the health committee which is headed by Mrs. Esther Babbitt who gave a short resume of Neenah-Menasha health agencies following the talks by the two guest speakers.

Miss Charline Blomstrom played two selections, "I Love Life" and "Neapolitan Night" on her Chinese violin. She was accompanied, at the piano by Mrs. W. H. Muner.

St. Mary Football Squad Rehearses For Appleton Tilt

Coach Miller Working With Squad of Nearly 50 Candidates

Neenah—Faced with the prospect of meeting Appleton high school in the first game of the season, Coach Mar Miller has been drilling his squad of nearly 50 St. Mary high graders intensively. The squad has already been handed several days of scrimmage. The problem of stopping Appleton's huge fullback, "Chuck" Sample, will be a problem to the St. Mary defense.

Following the Appleton game on Sept. 18, Little Chute comes here on Sunday, Sept. 26. Three out of town games will follow, the St. Mary squad traveling to Kimberly on Oct. 1 for a night game, to Kaukauna on Oct. 2 and to Little Chute on Oct. 17. Neenah will be the opponents here on Oct. 23 followed by a game with Marion on Nov. 2. The season will close with the St. Norbert game on Nov. 7.

Practice sessions have been held at St. Mary's since Sept. 1, the squad reporting for drills straight through the Labor day week end. Tentative positions as follows have been assigned by Coach Miller:

Center: Reuben Prunuski, Don Tschelchere and Chester Koss.

Guard: Eugene Walburn, John Lux, Eugene Hoks, Carl Rebe and Carl Rechner.

Tackle: Conception Dale Spalding, Robert Lall, Eugene Kraft, Ken Schmalz, Ray Sensesbrenner, Alvin Keener, Arthurs Howe, Karl Kohn, Jerome Lunzofski and Bob Schwarzbauer.

Ends: Harold Lux, Ed Kronch-nard, Fred Pizard, Tom Hahn, Vern Van Dyke, Erwin Stuer, William Bayer, John Brehm, Anton Bevers and Don Burlingame.

Quarterbacks: Don Hoks, Vern Coopman, John Eckrich and Frank Schindler.

Halfbacks: Co-captain Jim De-Young, Clayton Hoesenberger, E. Koerner, Gilbert Wagner, Floyd Ehn and Earl Grange.

Winnebago Group Making Plans for Winter Activities

Secretary of Winnebago Land, Inc., Seeks Suggestions for Program

Neenah—J. B. Cudlip, Oshkosh, executive secretary of Winnebago Land, Inc., announced today that plans for a winter program in Winnebago land will be considered within the next week or two.

Nothing definite for the proposed winter frolic or carnival has been decided, but the secretary said that the nature of the program will depend on a lot on suggestions received from people in Winnebago land.

Mr. Cudlip urged that Neenah, Menasha and Appleton residents write to Winnebago land headquarters in Oshkosh, giving suggestions of what they think would be the best winter program which would be complete enough to include the entire population of the area.

Many suggestions have already been submitted to the secretary and include such events as iceboat tournaments, skating races, dog sled races, skiing, sleighing, and other types of winter programs.

Seek Wide Interest
The secretary suggested that proposals of events should have at least statewide or national interest if possible.

He further suggested that since there are more than 170,000 people in Winnebago land the program would have to be extensive and probably of a nature to be divided into districts with a final tournament as the culmination.

The success of the recent National Rowboat Derby which received recognition in the various periodicals and over the radio throughout the entire country has already enhanced the promotion of a winter program, he said.

The purpose of the winter program, Mr. Cudlip explained, will be the same as that attained by the rowboat marathon, the finish of which was at Neenah in conjunction with the Neenah Lions club Labor day celebration, to publicize Winnebago land in order to attract vacationists and tourists from the south as well as the north.

Mr. Cudlip said that Winnebago land contains all the facilities for a winter program and can be converted into an ideal winter resort which will attract those persons to the south who are seeking winter attractions and entertainment.

Twin City Union Club Will Sponsor Wrestling Shows

Neenah—William Erickson, Menasha, sports promoter, announced today that the Twin City Union club will sponsor the fall and winter wrestling shows which will be staged in the S. A. Cook armory, Neenah. The bouts will be held on Wednesday nights.

Consumers Just Guessing as They Buy, Club Is Told

Salesman Describes Psychology of Buyer at Kiwanis Meeting

Neenah—People never know what they are buying or bought until after they have purchased it. Donald E. McMahon, Neenah automobile salesman, told members of the Kiwanis club in his talk on "Your Money's Worth" at the club's noon meeting Wednesday.

The speaker divided his talk into two divisions. "What People Spend Money for the Easiest," and "Means Used to Help Them Spend It."

In explaining his opening sentence McMahon defined the psychological motive of a consumer—that the anticipation of a purchase is based more or less on intangible uses, such as pride of ownership or the anticipation of pleasure to be derived from ownership.

The mental process of a purchaser when intending to buy something deals with the anticipation of the purchase, practical consideration to what use the purchase can be put and the actual purchase.

Consumer Flattered
"The actual purchase flatters the ego of the buyer in that the consumer is made to feel all important by the salesman as the head man of a transaction," the salesman explained.

"The reason the consumer cannot make a practical consideration as to what use the purchase can be put to is because he can't reconcile other's experiences with an article to his own possible experiences because of a transition of uses of an article and the increase amount of uses to which an article may be put after a certain length of time during which new uses may be developed.

"Because values are so hard to ascertain, it is the hardest thing for a consumer to buy something worthwhile," he concluded.

Explains Salesmanship
Dealing with the part of his talk on the means used to encourage people to buy, McMahon discussed briefly the various types of salesmanship used to influence the consumer.

He condemned unscrupulous business and professional men who draw a fine line between business shrewdness and honesty. Modern quacks, both professionally and in business, have their counterpart in the tribal medicine man who preyed upon the emotion and weakness of their clansmen to gain power and personal pecuniary advantage," he said.

"As the medicine man didn't cure the sick out of compassion for the ill and the ulterior motive of the apparent good deed was to increase in favor in the tribe by being in apparent control of life and death, modern business and professional quacks prefer the pecuniary angle to precede the altruistic motive."

Mr. McMahon concluded his talk by saying that if these modern quacks would utilize the same ingenuity and apply their intensive efforts to a legitimate enterprise their success would be assured.

10 Women's Teams Begin League Play On Menasha Alleys

D. Mottel Sets First Night Pace With 579-Pin Total

Menasha—The Twin Cities league bowling season had its official inauguration at the Hendy alleys last night when 10 teams of the Hendy Recreation Ladies league started to scatter the pins. D. Mottel had the high three game total of the evening, as well as high game, with scores of 136, 212 and 211 for a 579 total. She was closely followed by her teammate, L. Keapock with a 575 total.

The team captained by Mrs. L. Keapock took three games from Mrs. Klebenow's team, with all bowlers except one on the former team, gathering scores of over 500. Members of the team are L. Keapock, E. Peters, G. Schwartzbauer, D. Mottel and E. Bahr.

The No. 7 Cafe team likewise swept three games from the Pan-kratz Fuel team. L. Wheeler had a score of 205 in her third game for the winners.

A. Hecker had a 531 total in pacing the Tip Top team to a sweep of the games with Patrol's Dress Shop. A 507 score by M. Erdmann led the team captained by Mrs. Fuhs to three straight victories over the Adler Brau team. In the only split match of the evening the Waverly Beach team took two games from the Hendy Recreation team and then dropped the third game.

The Hendy Recreation Men's league will open its season on the Hendy alleys tonight in two shifts at 7 and 9 o'clock.

Mr. Rickard reported that 150 young pheasants are expected to arrive within two weeks and will be placed around Neenah and Menasha.

Transformer Will Be Tried for City Water Plant Power

60-Day Experiment to Determine Whether Present Engines are Needed

Neenah—To determine whether it is more economical to keep the municipal water works plant in continuous operation, the water and light commission will substitute a 150 kilowatt transformer for the two engines currently being used to generate power.

The commission agreed to a 60-day experiment with the Wisconsin Michigan Power company's transformer and power to pump drinking water for the city at a meeting last night at the city hall.

W. B. Montgomery, superintendent of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company's electrical department, met with the commission.

He offered the commission the transformer for a 60-day experiment and the power company will charge the city for the power used on the bases of the current rate under the street lighting contract.

May Be Permanent
The commission authorized the transition, and agreed that if the experiment proved that the cost of operation of the plant with this method decreased the system was to be permanently installed.

Montgomery explained that it would cost less by using the transformer system and a better product would be turned out. He said that less chemicals would be required to purify the water, for the water would go through the filtering process slower.

Under the present system the plant generates its own power with two engines which have a combined strength of 355 horsepower. Because of the excess power the plant is operated at intervals, requiring more chemicals to clear the city's drinking water. Using the powerful engines also involves excess expense, for much of the power generated by the two engines is not required under the new system of pumping water for the city and is wasted, it was explained.

One engine of 83 horse-power is capable of producing enough power for pumping the water. The two large engines were taxed to capacity when water was drawn from three wells under the former system, but the city's supply of drinking water now is taken from Lake Winnebago.

Stress Fundamentals In Football Practice

Menasha—Drill on the fundamentals of tackling and blocking are being emphasized this week by coach N. A. Calder as he drills his hefty squad of over 50 candidates for the Menasha high school football team. The first scrimmage of the season will be held on Saturday in preparation for the opening game of the season at Clintonville, only 10 days away. Practice yesterday at the field adjoining the Butte des Morts gridiron consisted of a 15 minute punting drill, a lengthy session of tackling and blocking and a series of wind sprints.

Condition is being emphasized by Coach Calder in the early drills. Positions on the squad will be determined on the basis of the sprints. The Notre Dame system employed by Calder, emphasizing speed for the backs, ends and guards who are required to lead the interference on many plays.

Receive $3,700 For NYA Work in Neenah, Menasha

17 Youths Now on Payroll, Twin City Director Reports

Menasha—An allotment of $3,751 for the period of July 15 to Jan. 15, 1938, for NYA activities has been received by Miss Regina Bajarski, NYA director. There are only 17 youths on the payroll now, 5 boys and 12 girls, who received checks totaling $209.76 for the last period.

The enrollment has decreased somewhat as private employment has taken several workers from the list and several certifications have been cancelled by the relief office. Miss Bajarski stated, Carl Christensen and S. E. Crockett, vocational school directors at Neenah and Menasha, are co-sponsors of the program.

Some of the workers are employed in the high school offices of the Twin Cities checking records and doing typing. Two are employed cataloging and filing at the city office and city engineer's office in Menasha. Five boys are employed at the Menasha park and Memorial building in recreational work and caring for the park.

Work projects apply to young men and women between the ages of 18 and 24 whose families are on relief. Miss Bajarski explained. Each worker must put in 40 hours a month on his job to stay on the NYA payroll.

$16 Is Minimum
Grading under the system rate the workers according to their abilities. The first division offers $16 a month for unskilled labor, which is the minimum wage; the intermediate group, as typists, junior clerks and handcraftsmen, receive $19 a month, and the skilled group, senior clerks, draftsmen, youth foremen, agricultural economists and junior artists and musicians, receive $23 monthly, the maximum amount offered.

The work is not a relief program. Miss Bajarski explained, but an endeavor to give recipients an opportunity to learn crafts and trades. Private industry's absorption of workers who are better fitted than before for various types of employment is the aim of the program.

Jobs Available For Domestics

Heavy Demand in Twin Cities Is Reported at Employment Office

Neenah—The Neenah-Menasha office of the Wisconsin State Employment service, 1501 N. Commercial street, Neenah, has on file a number of jobs for women domestic workers. Harry D. Gates, manager, reported today.

Mr. Gates said that there is a scarcity of domestic workers in the Twin Cities, despite the fact that employers requesting this type of worker are willing to pay good wages for thoroughly experienced women who are able to furnish references.

Most of the employers require women who are available to stay nights, the employment manager stated.

He urged that girls and women who have the necessary qualifications and do not live in the Twin Cities to apply to Miss Eda Gruetz-macher, the women's interviewer, at the Neenah-Menasha office.

Miss Gruetzmacher, however, has workers available for part-time housemaid jobs and for day work in cleaning. She suggested that a day's notice in advance be given for day workers which will enable her to give employers better service.

Menasha Man Kicks Out Jail Window; Gets $10 and Costs

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

He was fined $10 and costs or 15 days in county jail by Henry P. Hughes. A large glass window in the Menasha city jail was broken, Irving Stilt, county motorcycle officer said, when King gave a lusty kick while being held there before being brought to the county jail.

Paving Project To Be Completed Within 10 Days

Lay 400 Feet of Concrete On East Half of Street First Day

Neenah—The N. Commercial street paving project is expected to be completed with curbs and gutters in eight to 10 days, according to A. G. Prunuske, city engineer.

The city engineer estimated the completion time on the basis of the rapid progress made the first day of pouring concrete. With 36 men on the job more than 400 feet of concrete was laid on the east half of the street, Prunuske reported. And it is expected that by quitting time tonight the North Western railway tracks will be reached, a distance of about 1,500 feet from N. Water street.

Pouring of concrete started Wednesday morning at N. Water street and progressed North past Forest avenue and nearly reached High street. Curbs and gutters will not be installed until after Nicollet boulevard has been reached, and then the east side of the street will be curbed while the concrete is hardening.

When the east half of the street from N. Water street to Nicollet boulevard has been paved work on the west half of the street will start from Nicollet boulevard, progressing south.

City crews worked until late last night changing valves in water mains along N. Commercial street and repairing sewer connections which will be under concrete. The only anticipated difficulty in the paving project is the railway crossing which may curtail the progress a little because of the heavy train traffic.

The WORLD of STAMPS

BY JAMES B. HATCHER
"If your enemy's sword is longer than yours, close with him."
That's part of the battle code of Helmhachiro. Togo, the brave little admiral who directed Japan's warships when they met and sank the czar's grand fleet in the Sea of Japan in 1905. He came out of the Russo-Japanese war a national hero.

Now Japan is honoring Togo by placing his picture on a new 4-sen dark green stamp of the same design as the recent General Nogi stamp.

In 1894, Togo commanded the cruiser Naniwa. With it, he sank a Chinese troopship, starting the war which drove China out of Korea. By 1903, Togo was a vice admiral in command of Japan's main battle fleet. He fired the opening shots of the Russo-Japanese war, ordering his torpedo boats to attack Port Arthur. When Russia's Baltic fleet arrived, he ran up his famous signal:

"The fate of the empire depends upon this effort and the men must do their utmost."

During the battle, Togo paced the bridge of his flagship despite the heavy Russian fire. His officers tried to get him inside the conning tower, but he refused. A minute later the Russian guns hit the tower squarely. The engagement lasted two days and a night. The entire Russian fleet was sunk except two ships and they were captured.

The Old Map Argument
The emperor made Togo a count and decorated him with the Order of the Golden Kite. For almost 30 years he lived quietly in Tokyo in an aura of heroism, worshipped by the people. He died in 1934.

If two countries both claim a particular region, one of them sooner or later thinks of issuing a map stamp to show the world that she really owns the area.

Nicaragua offers the latest map stamp, in fact a set of seven designed for exterior airmail purposes. The map shows a cross-section of Central America, including bits of Costa Rica, El Salvador and Honduras, and quite all of Nicaragua.

Nicaragua and Honduras have been haggling over a sizable chunk of land between their borders. In a burst of broad-mindedness, Nicaragua has labeled this section "Territorio en Litigio" on the map stamp, but has calmly shaded it like the rest of Nicaragua as if to say it really is no part of Honduras.

The set consists of 10-centavo green, 15-c blue, 20-c yellow, 25-c purple, 30-c carmine, 50-c orange, 1-cordoba olive. A mail plane is included in the design.

Nicaragua also issues an interior airmail set of nine values, the design showing a monoplane over the president's mansion at Managua. Values are 1-c carmine, 2-c blue, 3-c olive, 4-c black, 5-c purple, 6-c dark brown, 8-c purple slate, 16-c orange, 24-c yellow, 25-c green.

Gets Stamps at Mills
Dr. R. J. Dillon, local stamp collector, was said to have made the rounds of paper mills and other industrial establishments several years ago and collected three large boxes of stamps torn from incoming mail. Commemoratives are his specialty.

'KANGAROO COURTS' OUT
La Porte, Ind.—(P)—Sheriff Joe Wolf has outlawed "kangaroo courts," mock hearings conducted inside bullpens by prisoners themselves at the La Porte county jail because he says "too many abuses arise."

Many sheriffs approve such "courts," Wolf says, because they give the prisoners something to do and keep them out of mischief.

A new prisoner usually is charged with "breaking into jail." The "judge" always imposes a "fine." If the prisoner can't pay the "fine"—money, cigarettes, candy or personal belongings—fellow prisoners are permitted by "court rules" to frisk him.

In Wolf's jail the prisoners are told to pass the time at odd jobs, or at playing cards and checkers.

Here's What to Do When Your Clothes Catch Fire

1. Do not run — that will fan the flames.
2. Wrap up in a rug, overcoat or some other heavy material. Drop to the floor and roll over slowly to smother the blaze. Do this even if you have no wrap.
3. Douse yourself with water if there's any around. Roll in the water that's spilled.
4. Cover your face with your arms and try not to inhale any flame.
5. Call a doctor.

If another person's clothes are afire you may have to knock him down to apply these measures, prescribed by the National Safety Council in Chicago. Don't hesitate if that is necessary, George P. McGillan, chief of the Appleton fire department, said.

If the person suffers from shock after the fire is out lay him on his back with head low.

While waiting for the doctor, keep the victim warm, rub his limbs toward the body, have him smell aromatic spirits of ammonia and drink water, tea or fruit juice to help keep the body fluids from being depleted.

If the burns are slight, dust on dry baking soda through a clean, thin cloth and bandage to keep the air out.

If the burns are severe (skin blistered or broken), apply a paste of baking soda and water and then bandage, the chief stated.

BEETLE INFESTS FORESTS

Wilburton, Okla.—(P)—A tiny beetle which feeds only on pine trees and thrives in drought seasons is threatening destruction of 15,000 trees in the Robbers' Cave state park near here.

Officials of the National Park Service said more than 1,000 trees—some of them over 50 years old—had been removed since the infestation began.

The voracious insect is the southern pine beetle, which is capable of killing pine trees of all ages and all species. It attacks the middle to upper portions of trees and destroys the soft inner bark through which the trees obtain nourishment.

How Appleton Grew Under Its 30 Mayors Since 1857

(This is the last of a series of articles discussing Appleton's mayors and the important matters occurring during their administration.)

BY LLOYD J. DERUS

John Goodland, Jr., present mayor of Appleton and connected with the city's governmental welfare almost continuously since the turn of the century, has served as mayor longer than any of his 29 predecessors.

The latest city achievements, construction of the $700,000 sewage disposal plant and the $975,000 new senior high school building, are perhaps the most outstanding, but Goodland's entire 10 years as mayor have been studded with forward steps in the city's history.

Mayor Goodland first held a civic office as treasurer in 1900. He served in that capacity until 1911 when he was elected a city commissioner, which office he held until 1915. He served as mayor in 1924 and 1925, was returned to that office again in 1930 and has held the position since.

Memorial drive bridge was completed during his first term as mayor. The Wilson and Roosevelt Junior High school buildings were erected and a large addition made to the McKinley Junior High school. An ordinance providing for arterial streets was adopted.

Fight Depression

In 1930 a proposed city manager form of government was voted down. Plans were drawn the same year for a new water department building and it was constructed several years later. Mayor Goodland appointed a special committee in 1930 to study ways of finding work for the ever increasing number of unemployed. A law extending time for payment of taxes was passed in 1931. In 1932 the Tullish park deed was acquired and the land became part of the city park system.

Two new large buildings were completed in 1932. One was the new post office and the other the Appleton Post-Crescent building. The city clerk was named controller in 1933.

The new sewage plant, built as a PWA project, was completed early this year and now is in operation. Work on the new senior high

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., above, serving his tenth year at the helm of city government, has held the position longer than any of the 29 mayors who preceded him. During his terms of office the new sewage disposal plant, water department building, Appleton Post-Crescent building, two new junior high schools and the post office were built. A new senior high school building is being erected at the present time.

Contract Let for Building Walks in Kimberly Village

Fred J. Piette of Appleton Successful Bidder At Kimberly

Kimberly—Fred J. Piette, Appleton contractor, was the successful bidder on construction of 10,000 square feet of sidewalk, driveway and crosswalks in the village at a village board meeting Monday evening. His bid was $1,897. Other contractors who submitted bids were Holte and Bass, Appleton, $1,650; T. L. Pher, Oshkosh, $1,735; Charles Gambsky, Menasha, $1,828; and George Probst, route 2, Appleton, $1,742. Mr. Piette will begin building the sidewalks Sept. 13. The board accepted another portion on file for additional sidewalk work on W. Kimberly avenue.

Clarence Hooyman, commonly known as "Spin," was appointed a member of the playground commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Al Briggs, who now resides in Niagara Falls, N. Y. The commission will hold its regular meeting Sept. 13 in the village hall to prepare for fall and winter programs.

Bills and claims amounting to $4,989.02 were allowed by the board, and the treasurer's report was read by Harry Van Himbergen and placed on file.

Relief in the village for August, totalled $150.97 which is $12 less than for the previous month. During August there were eight cases on relief, one being removed from the roll. Groceries during the month was the major item listed amounting to $79.24. Other items were: rent $21, meats $25.16, milk $19.53, fuel $4.50, light and water $3.29 and medical $28.25.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaBlanc and family and James Gaffney spent Labor day at Janesville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Remley.

The Boy Scouts with Scoutmaster Ed Bankert, will hold their first regular meeting at the village hall, Tuesday evening. All boys over 12 who are interested in scout work may attend this meeting.

Chief of Police John Bernady has issued a warning that some citizens in the village have the idea that Sept. 1 is the deadline for keeping dogs tied up. The chief said that an ordinance in the village provides that all dogs must be tied up from April 1 to Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faccette and family of Faribault, Minn., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaBlanc.

Board to Shuffle Pupils to Relieve Grade Congestion

Superintendent Explains Move Is Necessary to Assume Efficiency

Transfer of pupils from crowded grades in some public schools to less crowded grades in various other schools will be necessary this year to eliminate congestion, B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, reported at a meeting of the board of education last night at Lincoln school.

The problem will be worked out by obtaining the names and addresses of pupils in overcrowded grades and transferring those who live conveniently near to other ward schools, the superintendent explained. Transfers may cause dissatisfaction among parents and pupils, he said, but it is the only way that congestion can be eliminated. When the new senior high school is completed and the old school is available for grade occupancy, new school zoning areas will be planned.

Miss Dorothy Ehlike, Appleton, was engaged by the board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Miss Grace Johnson, third grade teacher at the Franklin school. Miss Ehlike is a graduate of Oshkosh State Teachers college and has had two years teaching experience at Park Falls.

May Teach Safety
Possibility of a new class in safety education for Appleton public schools was discussed by board members who authorized the superintendent of schools to make a trip to Kansas City, Mo., in October to attend the National Safety Council conference to obtain aid in setting up a safety program.

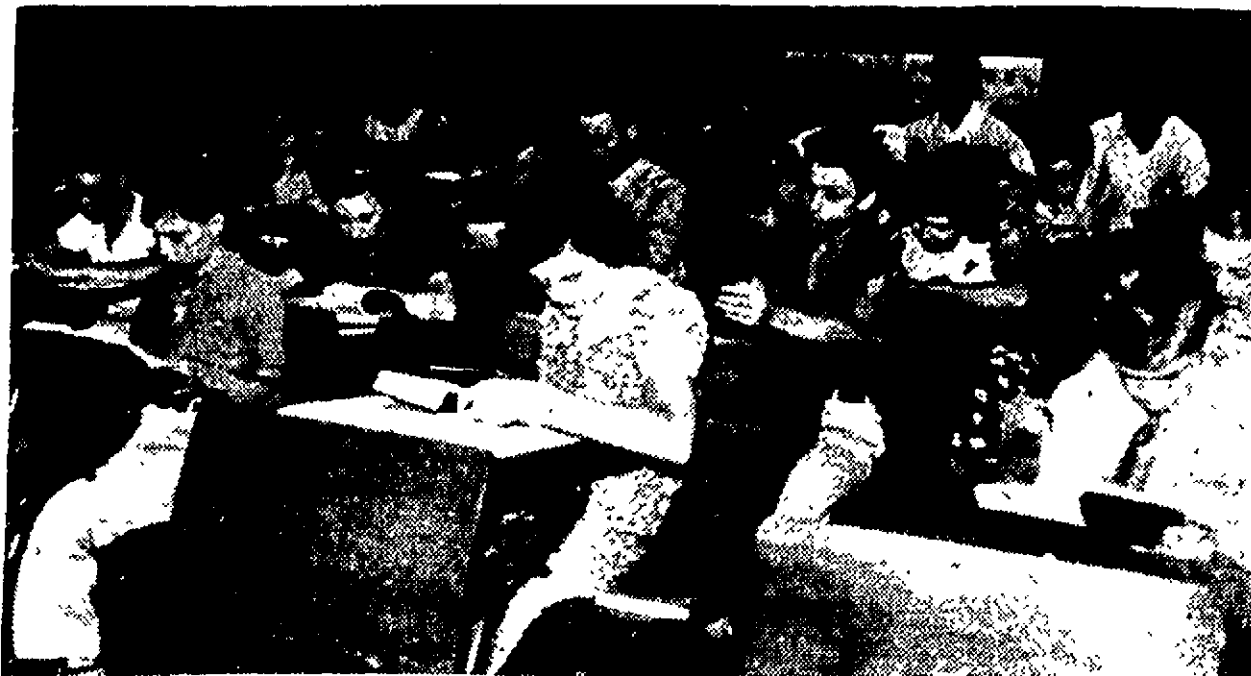

Mr. Rohan reported that teachers were working with the police department on traffic safety and that frequent talks were heard at the school on the subject. Statistics showing the number of persons killed and injured last year were read proving the need for such a program.

The board approved expenses for Mr. Rohan, Martha Sorenson, grades supervisor, and H. H. Heible, principal of the high school, to attend the annual meeting held by the state superintendent of public instruction at Madison Sept. 23 and 24. Members also approved the plan that the usual teacher's convention program be carried out this year, that teachers vote by balloting whether they wish to attend the Wisconsin Education association convention in Milwaukee Nov. 4 and 5 and the Northeastern Wisconsin Education association convention to be held in Appleton April 8.

Enrollment Higher
High school enrollment this year exceeds last year's registration by 88 pupils, the education committee reported. This situation is likely to result in program problems. A report will be heard later when enrollment is completed.

William Eggert reported the police department had requested that shrubbery on the southeast corner of the high school grounds and also at the Franklin school be removed. Police maintain that the shrubbery is a traffic hazard. The board authorized Mr. Eggert to

Vacation Days are Gone but Not Forgotten as Children Return to Schools

Hiking, fishing, sandlot baseball and other summer activities were a thing of the past as about 6,000 Appleton children trooped back to classrooms of the public schools system Tuesday.

Pupils of the 9C section at Wilson Junior High school are shown above tackling first day assignments of the 1937-38 term. The class is taught by Miss Alma Bohman.

Ardell and Geraldine Harmsen, right, 3-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Harmsen, 920 N. Appleton street, are "getting in good" with their afternoon kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Mabel R. Meyer, by presenting her with flowers as they begin their formal education at Columbus school. It doesn't make any difference, but Ardell is in the center and Geraldine is to the right while Mrs. Meyer is shown greeting the light-haired tots.

remove the shrubbery at both schools and also to cut grassweed on the site of the new senior high school.

Robert McGillan submitted a report on the annual inspection of all public schools. He said that the maintenance committee found the schools in excellent shape and lauded officials and janitors for their cooperation.

and friends in Chilton town and Sheboygan, left Sunday for his home in Chicago.

RED LIGHTS GOING OUT
Washington—Autoists have known this all along, but now Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, says

"stop" and "go" lights are no solution of the traffic problem.

He likes to think we'll probably wind up with big through highways from business districts to the suburbs, with not a single red light between the office and the dinner table.

IRON FIREMAN
AUTOMATIC COAL BURNER

The most comfortable heating any home can have is the kind that saturates the entire building with a steady continuous flow of mellow warmth—that warms all the way through. That is the kind of heating job an Iron Fireman does—plenty of heat all the time all the way through. Floors are warm and stay warm.

Coal gives off its heat in a steady, continuous flow. The fire is never suddenly blazing hot one minute and "dead as a mackerel" the next. It is always there—always giving off heat. It regulates itself automatically, and when full on makes a bright, clear flame like oil or gas. When it shuts down it does so gradually, always leaving a bed of coals which continue to give off heat and prevents the house from cooling off.

That is why we say that Iron Fireman heating is the most wholesome and comfortable, as well as the most economical. Iron Fireman heating costs far less than any other form—even less than hand-firing.

Have you thought of installing an Iron Fireman in your present heating plant and having at low cost and on easy terms the finest, most economical heating that money can buy?

Ask an authorized Iron Fireman dealer to quote you:

Warns Methodists Of Crisis Between Church and State

Holt Says United Action Needed to Maintain Church Status

Warning delegates to the Wisconsin conference of the First Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday of the international crisis in the position of the church and the state, the Rev. Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, St. Louis, Mo., asked, "Are we in danger of reverting to that first period in the development of the Christian world when the church was a minority group within a hostile state?"

The address, "The Church in the World," was the first of a series entitled, "The Church Prepares to Meet the Test." In his talk, Dr. Holt presented a picture of the Protestant world and its position as related to the state in various countries.

"In the Protestant world," Dr. Holt explained, "there are four major areas, the Scandinavian area, Continental Europe, Great Britain and the United States. In the Scandinavian countries, Protestant religions predominate. There are less than 3,000 Roman Catholics living in those countries. About 98 per cent of Norway is Protestant. In those countries the church and state are close and become practically identical."

Garbage Must be Buried Or Placed in Container

Garbage must be buried or thrown in a closed container and it is a violation of a city ordinance to leave it on empty lots, Claude N. Greisch, deputy health officer, said today. Numerous complaints have been received alleging the offense, he said. The garbage draws disease carrying insects and gives off disagreeable odors.

Predict Cooler Weather, Showers

Post-Crescent Thermometer Registers 89 Degrees At Noon Today

Showers tonight and Friday with cooler temperatures are predicted by the weather man to bring relief from the unseasonal hot weather. The mercury on the roof of the Post-Crescent building rose to 89 degrees at noon today and was expected to hit the 90-degree mark this afternoon.

Maximum and minimum temperatures for the last 24 hours preceding 9 o'clock this morning were 81 degrees and 62 degrees, according to records at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. The low temperature was registered at 5 o'clock this morning. The Associated press reports highest and lowest temperatures in the nation yesterday at Phoenix with 104 degrees and Winnemucca with 42 degrees.

Edwin Mand Succumbs After Long Illness

Chilton—Edwin Mand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mand, died at St. Agnes hospital in Fond du Lac at 9:45 Wednesday morning after an illness of several months. He had been in poor health during most of the summer, and had been at the hospital for about a month. He was born in this city Jan. 3, 1912, and was graduated from the local high school last June, being one of the five highest in his grade. He had won a scholarship to the University of Wisconsin, which he had planned to enter this month. He also was active in athletics in high school, being a member of the track and football teams.

Surviving are his parents, and four brothers, Joseph, Wesley, Franklin and Robert, all of Chilton. The funeral will be conducted from St. Augustine church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning by the Rev. F. M. McKeough. Burial will be in St. Augustine cemetery.

Mrs. Walter Blake, 47, town of Cicero, died at 9:39 Wednesday night at Green Bay, following a short illness and an operation. She was born Dec. 15, 1882, in the town of Black Creek and had lived, since her marriage Nov. 19, 1913, in the town of Cicero.

Civil War Veterans Still Trying To Agree Upon Two Major Questions

Madison —(P)—The Grand Army of the Republic spent three hours in a secret session today which veterans said produced no decision on two principal questions.

The same matter—an invitation to join with surviving Confederate soldiers in a blue-gray reunion at Gettysburg, Pa., next year, and selection of a 1938 encampment city—went undecided in a four-hour session yesterday afternoon, during which many of the old soldiers, weary from the parade, walked out. The resolutions committee planned to meet this afternoon to draft an answer to the Gettysburg invitation.

A couple of old soldiers, who declined to give their names, said the convention was "wasting too much time" on the Gettysburg question which they said was settled at the 1935 encampment.

"We voted then that any who wanted to could go," a Maine veteran said.

Plan Bleachers At Little Chute

Little Chute—At the regular meeting of the members of the village board Tuesday evening the village president, clerk, treasurer and trustees were authorized to attend the League of Wisconsin Municipalities convention at Fond du Lac Sept. 16 and 17, if they wish to do so.

The building of 60-foot bleachers for the football players at the ball park was left to the building and grounds committee and it is expected the work will be started at once. The financial report of the village treasurer was read and approved. It showed a cash balance on hand Aug. 31 of $5,341.63.

The police report for the month of August was read and motorists are again cautioned to drive more slowly through the village as at least one thousand pupils are attending one school of which a great number must cross the highway at least twice a day. General and water accounts were read and allowed by the finance committee. The next meeting of the board will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 21.

The bowling alleys, racks and other equipment at the Tony Wonders tavern have been overhauled and are now in first class condition for the coming bowling season which will open in about two weeks. Women's and men's leagues will be organized. Those wishing to enter a team may interview Tony Wonders or Jerome Lamers.

The following coming marriages were announced at St. John church Sunday: Miss Anna Winus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winus, and Clem Van Zeeland, son of Mrs. John Van Zeeland, both of this village. Ralph Bow, Sherwood, and Miss Gertrude Vander Hozen, Little Chute. Urban Van Asten, son of Mrs. John Van Asten of this village, and Miss Barbara Verhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Verhagen, Kaukauna; Marvin Lieberman of Wrightstown and Miss Hattie Jansen, Little Chute; Floyd

Board Authorizes Officials To Attend Municipalities League Meeting

They said Commander C. H. William Ruhe, Pittsburgh, was giving the members too much leeway in their debate and allowing them to stray from the subject.

Apparently Ruhe was anxious to obtain a vote on the Gettysburg proposal.

"It looks like a long, hard day," was the only comment from attendees who barred the doors.

G. A. R. encampments usually are concluded by Thursday noon, officials said.

Miss Katharine Flood, secretary of the G. A. R., said by the time yesterday's meeting got ready to vote on the invitation, there were so few veterans left in the council room that no official action could be taken.

So the decision, choice of a 1938 encampment city and election of officers were left for today's business sessions, which also are behind closed doors.

Flag Question
Paul I. Roy, formerly of Manitowish, Wis., secretary of the Pennsylvania State commission in charge of the blue-gray reunion, said the flag question was raised as soon as he extended the invitation. The G. A. R. veterans objecting to any unfurling of the Confederacy's flag.

Roy said he told the meeting that the Confederates recognize there is only one American flag but they would like to bring their war banners.

There was no difficulty over the Confederate flag at the blue-gray encampment in 1913 during the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the battle of Gettysburg, Roy said, adding he could see no reason for any veteran believing the presence of the stars and bars would be embarrassing or a dishonor to the flag.

Roy declared more than 2,000 of the 3,235 G. A. R. members individually have accepted invitations. Fewer than 200 are encamped here.

Des Moines, Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, have presented bids for the 1938 G. A. R. encampment.

Compensation Is Asked in Cases Before Examiner

Industrial Commission Conducts Hearings At City Hall

Hearings under the workmen's compensation act are being conducted by an examiner for the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin at the city hall.

A case involving Eric Hanson, 313 E. College avenue against the W. S. Patterson company was heard yesterday morning and is the outcome of a fall while the annex of the Institute of Paper Chemistry was under construction May 26, 1936. Hanson is asking benefits for loss of time and contends a stairway was unguarded without a railing.

Additional compensation is being sought by Eric Grant, 201 Broad street, Menasha, in a case against the Wisconsin Container corporation. Grant claims his back was injured March 8, 1937 while in the employ of the corporation and he received compensation until May 18 while disabled until June 22. He returned to work until June 22 when he claims he was forced to quit because of the back injury until June 29.

In Collision
Orville Huebner, 615 N. Morrison street, is seeking compensation for injuries received while employed by the Riverside Paper corporation. Huebner, a boiler room worker, claims he was riding his bicycle from the boiler room to the time clock when his bicycle and an automobile collided on S. Lawe street May 27, 1937. He was off the job for two weeks.

The case between Orin Heinrichs, route 2, Appleton, and the Knok Lumber company growing out of the recurrence of an injury incurred in 1935 was settled. Cases heard yesterday afternoon included Stanley Gabriel, Sr., 509 Sixth street, Menasha, versus the John Strange Paper company. Gabriel twisted his arm Feb. 8, 1937 and was paid to June 15 and claims the arm is still sore and hampers his work.

A case to be heard this afternoon was that of Max W. Novakowski, 617 Seventh street, Menasha, who suffered a back injury in 1927 and claims the injury was aggravated during the employ of the Menasha Wood Ware corporation necessitating continual wearing of a support since October. He is seeking compensation and money for additional medical treatment. Another hearing scheduled for this afternoon was that of Gordon Lathrop, 115 W. Spring street versus Outagamie county to determine the extent of permanent disability resulting from an accident Oct. 1, 1935.

Power Co. Workers Get Wage Increase

Announce Agreement Signed by Company, Electrical Employees

Announcements were made today by C. E. Schaefer, executive assistant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, and E. J. Brown, Milwaukee, representative of the Electrical Workers' union, that a labor agreement affecting more than 200 electrical workers and power plant operators of the company was signed Aug. 30 and wage increases are retroactive to Aug. 1.

Wage increases range from 4 to 8 cents an hour and workers with service records of five years will be entitled to a 2-day vacation. The contract includes both Appleton and Iron Mountain employees. Brown said the agreement provided for a "modified closed shop."

A similar agreement has been signed with bus drivers and garage mechanics, Schaefer added. Regulation of hours and overtime compensation remain the same, he said.

One building permit was issued by the building inspection department yesterday. The permit: Dr. A. L. Werner, 538 N. Center street, remodel residence and move garage, $2,000.

Horicon Marsh Fund Will Face Legal Struggle

Loomis Advises Dammann Not to Release Money Pending Test

Madison —(P)—Attorney General Orland S. Loomis advised Secretary of State Theodore Dammann today not to release a state appropriation of $4,000 to the Horicon Marsh Farmers Protective association until its validity has been determined by the courts.

Constitutionality of the appropriation was challenged by Louis Radke, vice president of the Wisconsin Wild Life Federation, in a letter to Dammann.

The legislature, in making the appropriation to the association to reimburse members for expenses incurred in litigation over flooding of the marsh, specified that the fund go only to members actively engaged in farming. This provision Radke asserted is unconstitutional. The procedure in this case is similar to that concerning the Wisconsin Development authority. Taxpayers demanded that Dammann refuse to honor WDA expense vouchers. He then asked an opinion from Loomis, and now the case is before circuit court.

Loomis' Statement
Loomis told Dammann today "it is a general rule that the legislature is without power to appropriate public revenues for anything but public purposes," but he did not pass on the question whether this appropriation should be considered as for a "public purpose."

A question of "improper class legislation" is involved, Loomis said.

"Other landowners in the Horicon marsh area who were equally affected by the litigation will receive no reimbursement for their expenses because they do not come within the classification of bona fide farmers actually engaged in farming," the attorney general said. "Whether the classification made is a valid one depends upon whether there is any reasonable basis for this division."

"These are probably questions to be determined by the courts."

Drives With Muffler Open, Fined $10, Costs

Winton D. Glaser, route 1, Menasha, pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning of operating a motorcycle in the city with the muffler open and Judge Thomas H. Ryan fined him $10 and costs with an alternative of 15 days in the Outagamie county detention camp. Glaser was arrested yesterday on W. Prospect street by Appleton police.

Peter Rademacher, 993 N. Division street, and Arline Herrman, 543 W. Durkee street, pleaded guilty of violating the city parking ordinance and each was fined $1 and costs. William Janisch, Chicago, was fined $1 and costs when he pleaded guilty of failing to stop at an arterial at Richmond street and Wisconsin avenue.

Crucity Is Charged In Suit for Divorce

Bernice Hoffmaster, 29, 804 S. Memorial drive, was granted a divorce from Byron T. Hoffmaster by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court yesterday. Cruel and inhuman treatment was charged. No alimony was asked and there were no children. The couple married at Chicago June 24, 1932 and separated Aug. 15, 1937.

DISALLOW CLAIMS

The judiciary committee at a meeting in the city hall yesterday recommended three claims against the city be disallowed. The claims: Mrs. Amy Barfknecht, 328; Mrs. Anne Meredith, 98; Lester A. Schulz, 337.75. Alderman W. H. Vanderheyden is chairman of the committee.

Pegler Says Mr. Lewis Can't Speak for 'Labor'

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York—One loud flaw in the reasoning of John L. Lewis as he presents his demands on the national government is his contention that as spokesman for the C.I.O. he speaks for all labor in the United States. At least that seems to be his contention when he refers to the president as one who supported labor's table and then cursed with equal fervor and fine impartiality both labor and its adversaries.

Pegler

True, the president and his party supported at the table of John L. Lewis and the C.I.O., but Lewis and the C.I.O. are not labor in the all-embracing sense of the word. There is still the A. F. of L. with a membership comparable to that of Mr. Lewis' union, and there are still more working people outside both organizations than there are within the two rival groups. Certainly Mr. Lewis isn't speaking for the A. F. of L., which certainly is composed of labor, and neither is he speaking for the great majority who are not organized at all.

In fact, Mr. Lewis does not even speak for the entire membership of the C.I.O., because there are many members of that organization who are members under duress and stand to lose their jobs under the closed shop agreement if they should quit. Some members of the C.I.O. have been bulldozed into membership and others have been "delivered" by majority vote of unions which they joined when those unions belonged to the A. F. of L.

Must Strive Along in Spite of Beliefs
Having been "delivered" by majority vote they must strive along as nominal C.I.O. people, even though they are still opposed to Lewis and the C.I.O., and voted against affiliation with his outfit.

As mere statistics, such unwilling members can not be distinguished from the enthusiasts, but in politics they do not belong to Lewis and he can't declare them against anyone.

Though 51 willing members may drag in 49 unwilling associates and make them pay dues and strike on occasion nobody can compel compliance with a decision of a majority. Neither can Lewis deliver them to the president in the event of a deal between them.

Mr. Lewis is correct when he says the president cursed with equal fervor and fine impartiality, but he takes liberties when he says labor was the party of the first part. The president's curse, as Mr. Lewis calls it, was delivered against a state affairs in which the C.I.O. undertook to drag unwilling labor into its ranks and threatened massacre in case troops were not called to close the mills.

It was all right to use troops to keep men off their jobs, but it was a betrayal of labor to use the same

Greenwood Makes Plans to Unveil Memorial Oct. 3

Greenwood, Wis.—(AP)—This little town of 600 population is anticipating the staging of one of the most important civic events in its history with the unveiling Oct. 3 of a war memorial sculptured by the Washington, D. C., artist, Prof. Ernest Durig.

The Greenwood Commercial club, sponsor of the event, is sending special invitations to attend the unveiling to President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Vice President and Mrs. Garner, Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Congressman Merlin Hull, and Governor LaFollette. Some 500 invited guests are expected to attend.

The memorial, which is being created gratis by Sculptor Durig, represents a Gold Star mother supporting on one arm a fallen soldier and holding in the other the American flag.

Anticipating throngs of visitors to the unveiling ceremony, Greenwood Commercial club officials are seeking the cooperation of surrounding communities in arranging for hotel accommodations.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Feature Service Writer

New York —(AP)— There are reasons for believing there is life on the moon, says William H. Pickering, one of the best known astronomers.

He finds these in color changes in some of the moon's craters, the mountains which exactly resemble the earth's volcanic and meteoric craters. He says he believes he has seen tinges of red and green indicating vegetation. The growth can be either hardy plants or bacteria.

The color changes wax and wane with the coming of the moon's daytime, which lasts half a month. The known fact that the moon has no air has been accepted as making any form of life there impossible. The moon hasn't enough gravitational pull to hold an atmosphere, but there might be a few traces of gases close to its surface.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Lull Deste is one of the most charming and different morsels to cross the waters for American films in many a year.

With a name like that and a Viennese background you'd expect she would certainly go in for some of that Dietrich glamor. She would be aloof, elusive, exclusive and generally unmanageable. But no, she acts like an American girl, and a very nice American girl at that.

Harry Cohn's boys tried the glamorizing act on Lull when she came seven months ago, and she submitted meekly. She let them try out the hair dresses and the exotic make-ups, and after they were done she went straight back to her own manner of dressing and acting.

She's No Copycat
"Glamor," she says in a slightly accented voice, "is something a woman has or hasn't. You can't give it to her. And I don't want to be an imitation of Mar-Lay-nah. I don't like the word 'glamorous.' I wish I could be different enough that another would have to be found for me. A word that would express joy of life, exhilaration—anything but 'glamorous' or 'exotic.'"

Lull is lively—and that might be the word. She acts as if she enjoys the day-to-day madness of picture making.

"It is what you call the nuts house isn't it?" she said. "Orders come, and five minutes later other orders contradicting the first ones, and we all go around doing very silly things. I'm sure one has to be a little crazy to work in pictures—that's why I love it!"

Here To Stay
Lull, now being seen in the English-made film, "Thunder in the City," is bowing to Hollywood in "I Married An Artist," with John Boles opposite. She is flattered when people say she resembles Merle Oberon or Myrna Loy. And she breaks other rules for foreign importations. First thing she did on arrival was buy a house and 100 acres. Next she applied for American citizenship. She really intends to stay.

As for "temperament," she says: "I am being very meek now. But if I become established in film—then watch me make demands!" But she says it with a twinkle in her gray-blue eyes. The only demand she made in my presence was of the prop man. She wanted a hot water bottle. As a special favor Columbia put her picture on the air-cooled stage—and Lull suffers from cold feet!

"Enlightened despots" of the 18th century included Catherine the Great of Russia, Frederick II of Prussia, Charles III of Spain and Emperor Joseph II of Austria.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S SCORE
Green Bay 5, Kaukauna 2.

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
GREEN BAY—The 1937 baseball season isn't over for the Kaukauna Brewers just yet for they'll have to meet Green Bay in a playoff for the league title as result of losing the second round honors to the Bays last night here, 5 to 2. The Kaws copied first round honors and would have nailed up the pennant had they been able to hurdle the Bays last evening.

Plans for the playoff call for two out of three games with the first game scheduled for 8:15 Sunday night under the lights at Kaukauna. The second game will be on the boards at Green Bay Sunday night, Sept. 19, and the third, if necessary, in the city which drew the largest crowd, Sept. 26.

Too Much Baseball?
Playing a little bit as though they'd had too much baseball in recent weeks, what with three games at Milwaukee in the state tournament from Thursday through Saturday, the Kaws failed to show their usual enthusiasm and fire. They had several chances to turn in stellar work, but their one big forte this season, but in every instance except one they blew.

Or perhaps the lethargy was the result of an accident which must have had its effect on the three Menasha men on the squad. While coming from the Columbus club to the park, Eddie Zelinski, Ben Peck and Hammy Powell figured in an accident when a car driven by Abe Brodsky, and in which they were riding, was involved in an accident in which a woman pedestrian was injured. The men took the woman to the hospital. Peck suffered a bruise over the eye in the crash. The men arrived late at the game which had to be held up 10 minutes.

In behalf of the Bays, however, it must be admitted they had on their hitting clothes and they collected nine safeties off Sanny Carvenough, one a homer over the center garden fence by Clusman and three others doubles. All figured in the scoring except one.

Rowe is Tough
Johnny Rowe was on the mound for the Bays and he had his mates of the tournament finale well under control. He allowed six hits, none for extra bases, and a couple very much of the scratch variety. He fanned nine batters and walked two. Carvenough fanned seven and walked four. Carvenough whiffed three men in the first and again in the second.

Kaukauna scored its two markers in the first. Bowers opened with a high fly to left which Bertrand dropped. Vils drew a walk but Powell whiffed. Rader then hit one to first base which the Bays played well which brought Eggert to the plate. He hit one off the handle of his bat back of third base and Bowers and Vils called. Zelinski followed with a line drive to left that looked labeled but Bertrand made a one-hand stab to retire the side.

Green Bay got one of the markers back in its half the frame when Carvenough fed Clusman a ball letter-high and Norm blasted it on a line over the centerfield wall which is a real homer in the Bay park. Fontana walked and Zuidmuller hit to Vondrashek at second and with a perfect double play in the making, Icky bobbled. Carvenough then fanned the next two batters.

The Green Sox put the game away in their half the third when three hits and some bad playing by Kaukauna resulted in four runs. Clusman rolled to start the frame but Fontana doubled to right and scored when Zuidmuller singled to center. Penzstadler then blasted Zelinski, 3b. Vondrashek, 2b. Carvenough, 1b. another double to right and Zuidmuller stopped at third. The Bays attempted a squeeze play with Dobkoski laying down a perfect bunt and Zuidmuller scoring. Carvenough fiddled the ball and tossed to Eggert who dropped the home-run trying to tag the runner on the baseline.

Eggert Wins Bat Title
Bertrand followed with a fly to right which Rader caught and tossed to Eggert to head off Penzstadler at the plate. Baldy saw the play was useless but that Dobkoski was trying for third and saved low to third to get him. The throw got away from Zelinski and he whiffed the fourth run.

Thereafter neither side threatened and not a runner got past second base.

Baldy Eggert probably clinched the batting title for the season with two hits, both of the scratch variety, in four trips. His first was off the handle and dropped back to Eggert; his second came by sheer force.

Umpires Get No Rest; Grimes Signed for 1938

Brooklyn—(AP)—National umpires take warning—Burleigh Grimes will be back managing the Brooklyn Dodgers again next season. "Bolling Bolly" was re-appointed last night at a reported substantial increase in salary. Grimes, who succeeded Casey Stengel last November, and has brought a nondescript outfit into sixth place so far this season, may get from $13,000 to $15,000 in 1938. His salary for this year was believed to be between $8,000 and $10,000.

Name Officials For Bay's Game With Cardinals

Contest Recalls Bad Blood
Between the Two Teams

GREEN BAY—Edward H. Cochran, a newcomer in the National Football league, will referee the game here Sunday between the Packers and Chicago Cardinals at the City stadium, 2 p. m.

Cochran, recently named sport editor of the Chicago American, comes from Kansas City where for years he was the "A-1" official of the Missouri conference.

Working with Cochran will be Bobby Cahn, Chicago, umpire; M. M. Meyer, Toledo, headlinesman; and R. A. Erditz, Oshkosh, field judge.

Cards Are Confident
According to reports from the Windy City, the Cardinals are coming here confident of smacking down Coach Lambeau's pride in the opening game of the league season. Coach Milan Creighton and Phil Handier will bring a squad of 30 odd players here for the combat and it is understood that extra "inducements" have been offered the players if they throw the Bays for a loss.

There is little love lost between the clubs. In 1935, the Cards took three straight from the Packers and ruined Green Bay's title hopes. Last fall, Lambeau and company whiffed the Chicagoans twice and played one no-score tie.

Bad blood developed in several of the games in 1936. Lou Gordon, former Cardinal star, now with the Packers had several run ins with his former teammates and there was some blood spilled on both sides. Gordon will be at a starting tackle post this Sunday.

Steady Week of Practice
The Packers have been getting in a steady week of practice, and aside from several injured players, could be right on edge for Sunday's gall game. New formations are being worked out and the team will be geared up to high pitch to get off on the right foot in the league schedule.

The ticket sale has been very encouraging for the opening fracas and the Packers management is hopeful of a 10,000 crowd. The stadium has been enlarged and numerous improvements have been made about the lot which will make things look more comfortable for the fans.

HORNSBY HOMERS, WHIFFS
Denver—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby left Denver with a pair of shoes, $2 in cash and a case of ginger ale he didn't have when he arrived. The ex-St. Louis Brown manager was awarded those prizes for hitting a home run in the Denver baseball tournament. He smashed the round-tripper in his first time at bat in the tourney. He struck out in his final appearance.

luck. Eggert lofted back of first and if Zuidmuller had fiddled the ball he'd probably been out. However Zuidmuller and Jacobs started a Gaston-Alphonse act and when Jacobs realized the situation he made a dive for it and missed. He also was far out of position and the ball was ruled a hit.

600 Turn Out for Varsity Berths in Big 10, Notre Dame

Include Wisconsin in Dark-horse Group; 52
Men Report

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO—(AP)—Public relations directors of the Big Ten and Notre Dame will give the 1937 football season to the athletes to-morrow.

The public relations boys have been telling the world for a month how tough things are going to be at their institutions this season. To-morrow, close to 600 aspirants for regular jobs on varsity teams will go to work in the first practice session of the campaign.

In eight Big Ten camps and at Notre Dame, the aim will be to start something capable of causing trouble for Northwestern, the 1936 conference champion, and Minnesota's Gophers, whose great victory string was snapped by the Wildcats. Notre Dame, where Elmer Layden will start with 65 selected candidates, meets both of the Big Ten favorites, facing the mighty men of Minnesota at Minneapolis October 30, and tackling Northwestern November 20.

Early figures indicate Minnesota should regain the conference title, with Northwestern making a rousing bid to retain it. Coach Bernie Bierman's sixth Gopher production figures to be another one of those powerhouses, in spite of the loss of Ed Widseth, Bud Wilkinson and Julie Alfonso, first rank stars. Bierman will start with 65 men, of which he thinks "only 45" will be useful during the campaign.

Northwestern Has Backs
Northwestern lost most of its crack linemen but faces the season about as well fixed for backs as any team in the league. Coach Lynn Waldorf, embarking on his third season, will build around such stars as Don Heap, Fred Vanzo, Bernard Jefferson and Bob Swisher, and has among his 74 invited candidates, the makings of a sturdy line.

Coach Francis Schmidt, in charge at Ohio State for the fourth season, still has strong backfield talent to use his "razzle-dazzle" offensive system, but must come up with linemen of the caliber of inwood Smith, Charles Hamrick and Merle Wendt, all graduated, to remain in the league's top flight. Sixty men will report to Schmidt.

In spite of the loss of head coach Noble Kizer, who has been given a leave of absence to recover from a kidney ailment, Purdue's Boilermakers again figure to be among the contenders. Line coach Mal Elward will replace Kizer for the season, and will have 20 major lettermen on his squad of 92, the Big Ten's biggest prospective turnout. The Boilermaker attack will feature Cecil Isbell, one of the Big Ten's most brilliant backs.

Wisconsin Is Darkhorse
The early darkhorse group includes Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. The Badgers, under Harry Stuhldreher starting his second year, expect to be faster and more certain in handling the Notre Dame style of offense. Stuhldreher will tee off with a squad of 52 men.

Bob Zuppke will head into his twenty-fifth season at Illinois, not saying much, but smiling. For the first time since 1932 he figures to have heavyweights on his squad of 52, instead of light heavies and mid-dleweights. Bo McMillin has invited only 42 players to Indiana's opening drill, but expects to make trouble from one end of the schedule to the other.

Michigan's hopes apparently rest on improved line maneuvers brought to Ann Arbor by Heartley (Hunk) Anderson, former Notre Dame and North Carolina head coach. Harry Kipke, starting his ninth season as head man, has invited 60 players.

Iowa, with Ira Tubbs starting his first season, apparently lacks a lot to be the source of serious trouble to opponents. Sixty-one men will answer the call at Iowa City, headed by Captain Homer Harris, crack Negro end. Chicago's prospects look poor, with only 40 men scheduled to report to Clark Shaugnessy.

Forster Game With Kenkes Is Canceled

The softball game featuring the Forster Taverns and the Kenke taverns and scheduled for this evening at the Forster field at E. John street, has been cancelled, it was announced today.

In a game last night at the Forster field the Fourth ward All-Stars lost to the Denlinger Beers by a 6 to 4 count. George Swamp hurled for the Fourth warders and Sonny Pike for the Beers.

JOE MAKES $10,000
San Francisco—(AP)—The accepted topics of conversation in San Francisco now are the new bridges and Joe DiMaggio. DiMaggio gets talked about most.

Joe's family says he'll make $40,000 in his second season in the big time.

Newspaper Calls All-Star Tilt a 'Foot-Baugh' Game

NEW YORK—(AP)—Anybody who can kick is welcome to try out in the North Carolina state backfield. . . . One Chicago paper called last week's All-Star tilt a "foot-Baugh game." . . . Pretty slick. . . . The boys say Johnny Marcum of the Red Sox is the laziest guy in the American league. . . . He won't even tote a bat from the dug-out, but uses the one the batter ahead of him dropped at the plate.

Tale of two cities: On the same day 722 St. Louis fans watched the Athletics beat the Browns, 5-2, a crowd of 85,000 saw Jack Milne of California win a dirt track motorcycle race in London. . . . In a track meet in Japan yesterday, the half mile was won by Uh with Oh, third. . . . Ah was an also ran. . . . Ernie Lombardi of the Reds hasn't made a sacrifice hit in four seasons. . . . Clemson's footballers will travel 5,000 miles to and from the wars this year. . . . Texas university and Nebraska are negotiating a football home and home series to start in 1940. . . . The Huskers are tied up that far ahead. . . . Max Schmeling's first tune-up bout for Joe Louis will be against Walter Neusel in Berlin this winter. . . .

Your old pal, Slip Madigan, St. Mary's coach, can't see how he'll miss this year. . . . The day practice opened, Slip played a little poker in the equipment room while the athletes were dressing. . . . He made a 1-card draw to a royal flush and connected. . . . Slip held the ace, king, jack and ten of hearts and caught the queen of hearts on the draw.

Pro Prestige Regained as Giants Beat Eastern All-Stars, 14 to 7

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—Thanks to the New York Giants' 14 to 7 victory over the Eastern All-Star College eleven, professional football today had regained some of the prestige lost in recent encounters with star-studded college outfits.

The Giants made it two in a row over the Collegians in a game played at the Polo Grounds last night for the benefit of the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air fund, but had several uncomfortable moments.

The game ended just after Mickey Kobrosky of Trinity had passed the Collegians' 78 yards to the Giants' 2-yard marker. After playing the pros off their feet in the first quarter, early in the second period Lew Elverson set the stage by a 19-yard punt return. A smooth passing attack engineered by Kobrosky took the ball 39 yards to the 1-yard marker from where Vannie Albanese, Syracuse ace, plunged over.

66-Yard Run
The Giants were not long in tying the score, however. Tuffy Leemans took one of Fran Murray's punts on his 34-yard stripe, and with a beautiful exhibition of broken field running stepped 66 yards for a touchdown. Tilly Manton placekicked the tying point.

The tide turned definitely late in the third quarter with a Giant thrust that carried into the final period. Hank Soar, textile mill worker from Providence, carried the ball seven times to gain 40 yards before bucking over from the 2-yard stripe. Again Manton boosted the extra point.

The Collegians' final bid opened on their 20-yard line featuring Kobrosky's aerial attack with an occasional dash around end, the stars marched almost to the goal before the Giants' line stiffened.

Each side made ten first downs. The Collegians outzined the Giants 128 yards to 41 by passes but were outmarched 87 yards to 52. The most widely herded of the All-Stars, Yale's Larry Kelley and Army's Monk Meyer, yielded the playing honors to two small-college heroes, Kobrosky, the passing ace of the game, and Smith, sensational defensive back, from Bucknell. Kelley didn't perform his pass-catching specialty once and got the equivalent of a Bronx cheer when he missed one easy-looking chance.

ALL-STAR PLAYOFF RESULTS
American 9, City League 0. (Forfeit).
American 3, City League 2.
City League 10, American 7.
City League 6, American 1.
Americans 9, City League 2.

THE curtain was rung down on the softball season in Appleton last evening out at Roosevelt field and the folks in the Sixth ward still carry a smile. For their favorites, the All-Stars of the American league, pounded out a 9 to 2 victory over those young upstarts from the American City league in general and the Fourth ward in particular.

The victory gave the American leaguers a half share in the city's softball honors with the Valley Irons, representing the City league, holding the team championship.

Howie Branchford is the hero of American league followers today. Used chiefly in a relief role in all-star games of the past, Howie was given the starting nod last evening and he turned in a highly creditable job allowing four hits, fanning five and walking three. No hit was for extra bases.

Diener Chased
Bobbie Diener, the City league's hurling ace, was on the mound for his loop but he went away in the sixth and was followed by Sonny Filz. Diener fanned two and walked one and Filz fanned five and walked two.

Extra base hits featured the American league's assault last evening. Doc Gebheim smashed a homer in the seventh and Lefty Kranzsch in the ninth with two mates on the paths. Ray Crane and X. Pope connected for triples and Branchford got doubles.

The American leaguers started counting runs in the first frame when Ray Crane got a lazy double to left, took third on Pope's line drive to right and scored on Chip Mortell's hit.

Crane Hits Triple
In the third frame the Americans added two more runs. Branchford doubled to right, and Crane crashed through with a triple to right scoring Howie. Pope and Mortell skied but Kelly got a double to center scoring Crane and then stole third where he died when Schroeder whiffed.

The City leaguers threatened in the fourth when, with one away, Ves Gregorius singled over second and Cy Burton lined to Refke. The latter tried to double Gregorius off first but threw low which permitted Ves to advance a base. Ves then stole second but when Grishaber drew a walk Gregorius led off third too far and was nipped.

Two more runs in the first of the sixth gave the Americans a 5 to 0 lead. Pope tripled to center and scored on a wild pitch. Mortell fanned but Kelly walked and pilfered second and third and scored on Schroeder's single. Diener then left the mound and Filz took up the burden and retired the side.

The City league got its two runs in the seventh. Davidson was credited with a hit when a sharp grounder clanced off Schroeder's glove. Gregorius walked and Cy Burton lined a single into left. Davidson scored on the play and Chicago—(AP)—The national amateur softball championship battle will open tomorrow night at Soldier Field with more than 85 teams entered in the men's and women's title divisions.

Doc Gebheim homered in the American half the fraffe to make the score 6 to 2 for his team.

The final American league markers came in the ninth when Lefty Kranzsch hit a home run with Kelly waiting on third and Schroeder on second.

The American league will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. to plan for its annual league banquet.

Rickey Proposal To Shelve Dean Takes Spotlight

Hurler Offered 1-Year Vacation; Fans Ignore Other Events

Associated Press Sports Writer
THE St. Louis Cardinals looked very much today as if they were sharpening up a knife for the purpose of cutting off their collective nose to spite their equally collective face.

J. Dean

They were really serious about suggesting a year's retirement for Dizzy Dean, and were not just talking to throw a scare into baseball's No. 1. Dizzy would offer, they would be doing themselves more harm than good by shelving the greatest pitcher in the game for that length of time, despite his eccentricities.

The row started by Branch Rickey with the retirement suggestion, and followed up by Dean's plaintive plea for permission to trade himself, took the stage away from everything else in the big time today.

Playing second fiddle to the Rickey-Dean wrangle were such other developments as the re-appointment of "Boiling Boilly" Grimes as chief umpire batter and manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, the continuation of the Giants' 21-game lead in the National league race; the widening of the Yankees' American league edge of 12 full games, and the rise of Pittsburgh to third place in the National league and Cleveland to fourth in the American.

Have Reasons

The Cards may have their reasons for talking about packing Dizzy's arm—as well as his ability to talk it out with anyone in the game—in hotbeds for a year. These would include, of course, the fact that such a move would, as Rickey said it, "act as a tonic and build up his baseball morale as well as his arm."

But on the other hand Dizzy has given no evidence that his pitching warrants a year's retirement—and when he's right, he's somewhat better than a greenhand at fogging 'em in.

His ailments of the moment, he contends, are at worst only temporary. He's still one of the game's big drawing cards, as well as a piece of ivory that could return a tidy sum on the open market.

He certainly didn't look ready for a wheelchair yesterday as he pitched a 5-hitter against the Cubs. Although he lost 4-0, largely because of the clouting of Gabby Hartnett, a 5-hitter isn't exactly getting your ears pinned back.

Cubs Win

The victory for the Cubs enabled them to stay within shouting distance of the Giants, who had their hands full before pulling out a 9-7 decision over their best-loved "haters"—the Dodgers. A short while later, the Brooklyn management announced the signing of Grimes at a reported substantial salary increase.

The Yanks pulled two games out of the fire against the Red Sox. They took the opener, 3-2, with a run in the ninth and then, with Gehrig's thirty-third homer as the payoff wallop, scored eight runs in the final frame to win the second game, 9-6.

The Tigers managed only an even break with the Indians, taking the nightcap, 10-5, on Hank Greenberg's two homers, after dropping the curtain raiser, 6-1. The Pirates pounded the Red 7-6 in 10 frames and 8-2 in nine.

Four well-pitched games found the Phillies splitting with the Bees, and the Athletics doing the same with the Senators. The Phils won 6-3 and lost 1-0. The A's won 2-0 and then went down 1-0. The White Sox socked the Browns 10-1.

Essential Requirements of Game Cover

BY ROBERT PAGE LINCOLN

It is a reflection on our sense of good judgment and knowledge of the requirements whereby game birds may be perpetuated that there is, as yet, but little definite understanding among the sportsmen and farmers of the value of real cover for the game birds. This cover is subject to the physical nature of the region, the type of the land, its natural weed, brush, or tree growth not to forget that which applies to the needs of one species of game bird is not necessarily the choice of another.

Upland game, of which the pheasant is now the leading exponent, is dependent upon farm lands for its feeding grounds as well as cover in which to hide and to nest. Needless to state its future depends to a great extent upon the willingness of the farmer to reserve cover on his land for the purpose and to share with this dominant game bird a certain portion of the food that is produced on the land. There is no gainsaying the fact that the farmer, in the final analysis, feeds the game birds. It is extremely doubtful if the rank and file of the farmers leave a judicious amount of cover on the land to the object in view of perpetuating this game bird. There is a wide-run pasture lands, strips of brush and tall weeds along watercourses and ditches, small nooks at fence corners and along the fence rows themselves on which these birds must depend. Choice of all probably is the meadow patch of willow, kinnekinick, swamp grasses and coarse weeds in general. Often these patches will be quite extensive, ranging in fact from an acre to ten or more acres in extent.

The farmer rarely touches an area of the sort unless as it is quite damp at times, is left for pasture, is excellent for the cattle in the heat of the summer and is probably useful for no other purpose. Obviously the farmer is not intentionally reserving this patch for the game birds, and yet here is to be found about the finest cover in the world for the pheasant, not to mention the prairie chicken.

Several years ago we made a check on a certain ten-acre tract such as mentioned, with really amazing results. Here were produced more than 30 pheasants, there were 10 prairie chickens there in the fall, something like 10 of the almost rare woodcock, several partridges in a wooded stretch near its further end. Here, too, were produced what I should judge to be upwards of 20 cottontail rabbits, while a pond in one end produced a number of muskrats. Several hawks and one osprey were listed among the inhabitants of this lowland strip. Songbirds to the extent of twenty species nested in this area.

Now the above example of farm cover is interesting inasmuch as it shows just what is possible on even the smallest areas on the farm lands. Understand, this instance may be considered as unusual for the very reason that this farmer's land was summer-posted, and was not invaded at any time by boys and others.

Obviously there are thousands of like stretches of lowland cover on the farms of the country, some good, some indifferent, some of little use. Yet it is these so-called waste pieces of cover that we must consider seriously in our survey of the subject. They are the logical breeding and sheltering places on the farms. A great number of these would provide an abundance of game, ten times more than now in some instances, were they properly set aside and all intruders kept out of their confines. Where farmers have the future of the game fully at heart, it would be possible to have such areas posted to the extent that there would be no invasion of their confines at any time in the course of the summer.

Probably the efforts of the farmer in this respect would be disregarded, but not so if a state game and fish department stepped in and officially established such locations as breeding areas. This would demand first, a survey of each township in a country and cooperation of the farmers. Where these lightly brushed in and weedy lowland areas are found to be suitable they would at once be set aside as breeding places and official game cover.

While these larger patches of lowland cover provide the best that the farms have to offer, there are also little islands of brush and wooded areas, certain to carry a number of pheasants. The struggle in the future will be to preserve such, and also any waste places in their entirety, but this is entirely as the farmer wills it. If, as is true in some sections of the country, the farmer derives some manner of revenue from the hunter as the result of furthering or perpetuating the game bird on his land, then that is an answer to the problem. The plan may not be fool proof, nevertheless it has worked out advantageously in many states. On the other hand, where there is yet no revenue derived by the farmer for his efforts and he still is the "sole support" so far as the game on his land is concerned, we have another angle to consider. That angle involves the farm boys and girls who have become enrolled in the conservation units of the 4-H Clubs of the country. It is not logical to believe that these farm boys and girls, who are really just next door to the breeding and feeding places of the upland birds, should be the ones who could work wonders, not only in ascertaining these things, and one desirable farm covers, but who could, at the same time, post and protect such in the summer and who could likewise enumerate the game species on the same? Of course, it can be said without contradiction that the future of a very great number of our game birds on our farms will depend upon the disposition of the game cover on the same and to what an extent the young people on the farms will aid in protecting the same.

If the future holds in store a more intense use of the acres and "clean farming" will be pushed, thus wiping out available cover, the game birds must go. No cover, no feeding and breeding areas, no game birds!

Driscoll Hopeful and Optimistic About M. U.

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of stories written for the Associated Press by football coaches of Wisconsin universities and colleges on the 1937 football season.)

BY PADDY DRISCOLL
Marquette U. Football Coach
(Written for the Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE.—Paddy Driscoll has said that a football coach always whistles away the month of August. He's like the little boy going past the cemetery, knowing not what to expect but ready for the worst.

Personally, I haven't whistled any more this August than I did last December or in May. True, I don't know what to expect from my Marquette university football team this fall, but I am confident that the boys will give everything they have and that this 1937 season, my first with the Golden Avalanche, will be interesting from start to finish.

Outside of my own playing days at Northwestern and a year as an assistant coach at the Evanston school, I have had little or no connection with college teams. But I have been in the thick of football each fall for more than 20 years. And I think I know a football player when I see one.

That's why I'm inclined to be hopeful and optimistic about prospects at Marquette this season. The Golden Avalanche had possibly the greatest varsity backfield in the country last fall, but one which has been dissipated by graduation. Frank Murray, who guided the Blue and Gold teams so successfully for 15 years, likewise is gone. Certain stars have been lost from the line.

Building Up

So we're building from the ground up at Marquette. A coaching change usually means a change in system. We will retain certain fundamental maneuvers of past Hilltop teams, but will effect alterations. Capt. Ray Sonnenberg, blocking halfback, is the only experienced backfield veteran on hand. All other jobs—the all-important quarterback post, the powerhouse fullback spot and the key position of running half—must be filled from inexperienced material.

We have lettermen back for all the line positions in Anderson and Cooper, ends: Hansen, Lumb, Kuhn and Siefert; tackles: Cernacki and Mosovsky; guards: Cernacki and center—a potent array. Of the new forwards, we are expecting the most from Braden, guard; Busler, tackle; Burke, end, and Quabius, center. I think our line will be all right.

Oncoming backs are numerous, but the problem will be to pick the right men, those best qualified for all-around backfield performance. Busch was a reserve letterman fullback last fall. Sonnenberg was a great blocker, and we'll probably build around him. I won't attempt to enumerate all the sophomores, but some of them include Radatz and Malach, quarterbacks; Stiles and Krieger, fullbacks; and Lessey, center. Cradwell, Bakula, Betz, Wilber, Austin and Sossens, halfbacks.

The spirit in spring practice was excellent. There will be a wide open fight for jobs this fall, and a team often thrives on intra-squad competition. We will be strong in number, and I am inclined to believe that it won't take long for our men, green as they are, to deliver—even in the face of a terrific schedule.

Students Named As High School Library Workers

Crew of Assistants Begins Cataloging 200 New Books

New London—Librarian appointments to the Washington High school library were made yesterday by Miss Alice Howard, faculty librarian. Girl students will be in charge of the library as follows: first period, Anita Brault; second period, Vera Walstrom; third, Elsie Frederick; fourth, Lois Vandenberg; fifth, Dorothy Smith; sixth, Mary Saterstrom.

The girls began work at once cataloging approximately 200 new books which are being added to the high school and grade school libraries. About 85 new reference and occasional guidance books have been received for the use of high school students. The books are ordered at the suggestion or request of the various teachers. More than a hundred volumes, including reference, history, novels and fairy tales will be made available at the grade school libraries. A new set of encyclopedias has been purchased for the Lincoln school.

Library Growing

Approximately 1,000 new books have been added to the public school libraries since a re-cataloging and re-accessioning project was begun three years ago. Last year 275 books were added in the course of the school term. The volumes received so far this year bring the total number on the high school shelves to 1,707, not including the other schools.

A large magazine and paper list has been subscribed to by the high school this year. Books and magazines may be withdrawn from the school library only through the librarian.

Hewn Oak Beams, Knotless Pine Boards Found as Old Dwelling Is Remodeled

New London—The old Gilbert homestead, built along the Embarras river at the north end of Lincoln street in 1864 by Marshall Gilbert, is being modernized, inside and out, by Mrs. William Viel who shares ownership of the home with her sister, Mrs. John Kuebler.

Construction features new to modern carpenters are being unearthed daily as the work progresses on the 73-year-old structure. Plain pine boards, 14 inches wide and 18 to 20 feet long without a single knot, are revealed in the floors under a coat of thin paint. Foundation beams of 12 by 12 inch hewn oak have been found to be in a perfectly preserved state. Split laths produced with a hatchet are found under the plaster of the walls and the whole is held together with long square nails of the horseshoe type.

In excavating for the basement, workmen report findings of old bones of skeletons as they dig around. According to local legend the site on the Embarras river was an old favorite camping ground of the Indians and was often used as a burial place.

46 Players Seek Berths On New London Grid Team

New London—Forty-six boys were practicing hard in football togs at Washington High school Tuesday afternoon in an effort to win a berth on the new 1937 varsity football squad. Coach D. N. Stacey put backfield men through tackling, passing and ball handling drills while C. M. Charlesworth, assistant coach, had his hands full directing about 30 potential linemen through tough blocking and scrimmage practice.

Eight freshmen made their appearance on the field with Bernard Freiburger, Alan Ziebur and Lester Schimke representing fine heavy material for the future. Others in practice are Jack Collar, Dick Wyman, Charles Clark, George Webber and Jack Dent.

A couple of hopes to the regular squad made an unexpected appearance in James Meshnick, a rangy lad and likely center who left the game voluntarily early in the season last year, and Ben Huzzar who has the making of a scrappy tackle.

Seek Backfield Posts

Bernie Stern, who helped make basketball history for the school last year, has turned to football now and may find a place for himself in the varsity backfield with the veterans, Phil Clark and Ike Poepeke. Hank McDaniel is slated to do big things behind the line this season judging from his short performances last year.

Donald Stern is there and Bob Houk, the little fellow who pleased fans from his scrappy showing against Clintonville for a few minutes last fall, but he's getting bigger now and while only a sophomore he should be valuable in the reserves.

In the scramble for end positions Francis Meinhardt is already well established with Stewart Hammerberg seeking the other side. Harold Hayward and Leland Dobbertstein represent about the two biggest fellows on the team and may work up into a fine tackling team. Evan Stern, Paul Knapstein and John Restle may prove good guard material or find some place in the line.

Some of the inexperienced fellows practicing with the backfield men yesterday were Paul Monroe, Erv Boehlman, Gordon Meiklejohn, Job Soffa and Pete Laux. Working with the linemen were Ray Baerwald, Jack Cole, Douglas Hanson, Carl Heimbrack and Clifford Schoenick. Others in the scrimmage were Bud Mavis, Kenneth Magalska, Kenneth Poppy, George Edminster, Winston Wells, Keith and Junior Prah, Anton Herres, Wallace Hammerberg, Emory Danke, Gordon Schneider, Jerome Lund, and Roy Brush.

Unwise to Trust Bidding Of Adversaries too Far

BY ELY CULBERTSON
As I have said on innumerable occasions, the bidding should be used as an invaluable guide to the play. Even this dictum, however, must be qualified by other and more concrete factors.
I once watched a charming woman defend against a slam contract. The player who turned out to be the dummy had opened the bidding with a psychic club bid, and his partner then had climbed rapidly to six spades. The lady selected the heart ace as her opening lead, and the dummy went down with good spade support, a singleton heart, a long solid diamond suit and two miserable little clubs. Having collected one trick, my eyes almost popped out of my head when the opening leader, after furrowing her lovely brows, switched to a trump. Her partner, of course had the club ace and may, for all I know, still be holding it. To a gentle question as to why she had not switched to a club, the lady replied: "Why, clubs were bid."
Of course, none of my readers could reach this height of naivete, but I will venture that many of them do lose games by trusting the adversaries' bidding too far. That is what happened to East in the following hand:

Answer: Three spades.

The bidding:

North 1 club 1 spade 2 no trump	East 1 heart 2 no trump Pass	South 1 heart 2 no trump Pass	West 1 heart 2 no trump Pass

South belonged to the school that leans over backward to bid "one-over-one," paying little or no attention to unbidable suits. Due to the fact that South did not find North with good heart support, and due even more to the defenders' mistakes, the heart bid worked out well on this particular occasion. The correct response of two no trump, however, would be the winning bid in the long run.

West, not unnaturally, was impressed by the heart bid and, therefore, chose to open his fourth highest diamond. Declarer won with the jack, and cleared the club suit by leading to the ace and back to the queen.

East, in with the club king, should have seen that defeat of the contract was highly unlikely unless West had substantial heart strength. South had bid strongly. Surely there was little chance that West held the spade and diamond aces. Thus, when East woodenly returned his partner's opening lead, he was virtually giving up. Declarer, of course, proceeded to run off a total of ten tricks.

The correct defense on East's part required the lead of precisely one card, namely the heart jack. It is easy to see what then would have happened. Whether declarer covered or not the defenders could have taken five heart tricks.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Question: The bidding has been: South — 1 no trump. North — 2 spades. What is South's next bid with the following:
♠ Q 9 6 3 ♥ K 9 7 ♦ A K 5 ♣ A J 8 7

Answer: Three spades.

Peterson Family Ends Its 10-Day Reunion at Waupaca

Waupaca — The descendants of Peter and Caroline Peterson, who came from the Jutland, Denmark, in 1888, congregated at Grand View hotel on Rainbow lake from Aug. 31 until Thursday, Sept. 9. The oldest living member of the clan, William Peterson, 81, of Milwaukee, was present. He is the one surviving son of the five born to Peter and Caroline here in America, a great-grandfather himself.

On Saturday afternoon the Petersons took launch rides around the Chain-o' Lakes, and the day's festivities were concluded by the "broadcast" of the Peterson Folies over Station P-E-T-E. The announcer was Russell Ames Cook, director of the Symphonic Ensemble of Boston, lecturer on music appreciation at Harvard university. Mr. Cook was enroute to Boston from the Denver and San Francisco symphony orchestras. Each branch of the family was represented on the program.

Clarence Peterson of Menasha sang several humorous selections, preferring "The Long-Handled Dipper that Hunk by the Sink" to "The Old, Oaken Bucket." Harold Peterson, principal of Shorewood High school, sang "When I Grow too Old to Dream." Grethe and LaVerne Peterson, children of LaVerne Peterson of Waupaca, gave a song and dance interpretation of "Copper Colored Gal," the arrangement and steps for which originated in the Yva Palms Peterson School of Dancing in Waupaca. Connie Hoffman of Menasha appeared as a tap dancer, and Judith Peterson, daughter of Harvey Peterson of Waupaca, appeared as a ballet dancer. Joan Peterson of Columbus Ohio, and Grethe Peterson of Waupaca gave a Danish Folk dance for this special occasion. Julianne Peterson of Menasha danced, and Jimmy Peterson, son of L. S. FLAME TRAIL

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon decides to rebuild her burned ranch house and barn, though Neighbor Josh Hastings, whom she hates, wants to buy her ranch and marry Kay. Ted Gaylor, a puncher she impulsively hired, fights Scrap Johnson, a cowhand who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a cabin where a girl (Marion) nurses him a week before the sheriff arrests him due to a tin unconsciously given by Kay. The sheriff and his posse start off with Ted for Clear Water Basin jail.

Ted's mind reeled before he thought that Marion might have crept away while he was sleeping, and have betrayed him. She certainly was the only girl that knew his whereabouts! But the next instant he cursed himself for even harboring such a thought.

Marion would have been utterly incapable of such a sneaking act! She could no more have done a thing like that than Kay could.

"Search me!" It was evident that the man he was questioning was greatly enjoying Ted's stupefaction.

"It was some Jane over in the Red River section. You seem to have girls all over the place!" he ended with meek admiration.

"Red River?" Ted had a gone feeling at the pit of his stomach and for a moment he swayed dizzily as the saddle "Red River" seat.

"There must be some mistake! No one in those parts had any died where I was."

"Pears she was prowling around doing a bit of investigating on her own. 'Hi there, Sam!' he called ahead to the sheriff. 'What was the name of that girl that tipped Zeke Farley off about this bird's whereabouts?'"

"Crandon" the sheriff called back "Old Man Crandon's daughter who's been running the Lazy Nine since he kicked off, about a year ago."

Ted gripped the saddle horn to keep himself from toppling over as a rushing blackness closed in on him. Fighting with all his power against the fairness that assailed him, he gradually felt the roaring.
